AWARD  For EXCELLENCE  in  TEACHING

College of Biological Science

All members of the University Community are invited to nominate a faculty member or a teaching team or group within the College of Biological Science for this award.

Individuals or groups may be nominated on the basis of outstanding individual or collaborative performance in one or more of the following areas:
(a) undergraduate class-room instruction;
(b) graduate teaching (graduate courses; thesis supervision);
(c) curriculum development;
(d) preparation of teaching materials (textbooks, manuals, computer learning programs, audio-visual learning aids, etc.);
(e) development of innovative teaching methods;
(f) scholarship in the field of education;
(g) other contributions.

Nominations will be evaluated on the following criteria:
(a) the significance of the contribution relative to conventional practices;
(b) demonstrated benefits to the quality of the learning experience;
(c) impact or potential for impact on large number of students;
(d) overall dedication to the student learning experience.

Nominations should include the following:
(a) covering letter from nominator(s) with a statement of recommendation about the nominee(s);
(b) letters of support, if appropriate, from undergraduate students, graduate students, colleagues, alumni, administrators, and off-campus collaborators.

Nomination forms are available at www.uoguelph.ca/cbs and are due to the CBS Dean’s Office no later than September 15th, 2015, together with all supporting documentation. This award will be presented at the CBS recognition event in the fall semester.
