

HISTORY GRAD SCHOOL INFO SESSION

Wednesday, October 18
5:30 - 6:15 pm, MCKN 306

Considering applying to Grad School in History?

Come to our Info Session to find out about:

- Choosing a program
- How to write a strong application
- Graduate studies in History
- Research abroad
- What being a grad student is all about
- FREE PIZZA AND POP!!!!

Speakers:

Professors: Peter Goddard

Susan Nance

Graduate student: Lisa Baer

U of G GRADUATE STUDIES

History: MA, PhD

The Tri-University Graduate Program in History is the second largest History graduate school in Canada, linking Guelph with Wilfrid Laurier University and the University of Waterloo. Our students enjoy close student-professor relationships, and teaching assistantship and scholarship opportunities designed to help students do great research and graduate on time.

www.UHistory.ca

Program

We offer two Master's options and a Doctoral program. Master's students choose between a course-work plus a major research project/essay Master of Arts, MA (approximately three semesters), or a course-work and research thesis option MA (approximately four semesters). The PhD program requires the successful completion of qualifying exams and a dissertation.

Research Fields

The Tri-University Doctoral Program generally supports thesis preparation in nine fields of study:

- Canadian History
- Indigenous History
- Scottish History
- Early Modern European History
- Medieval History
- War and Society
- Cold War-era History
- World History

The options for MA-level research are very broad and correspond to faculty expertise.

Application Deadline:
February 1, 2017

Funding

All eligible MA students receive guaranteed financial support in the form of teaching assistantships and scholarships.

All eligible PhD students receive substantial multi-year financial support.

Admission Requirements

MA:

- Degree in history, or equivalent, with at least a high second class (B+) average
- Statement of intent, describing proposed area of study and proposed thesis topic

PHD:

- Master's degree in History, or related field, with at least an "A-" standing
- Samples of written work, academic transcripts, and statement of research plans
- International applicants may be required to take the GRE or TOEFL

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN:

- Medieval world?
- Scotland?
- Indigenous history?
- History of science?
- Rural and environmental history?
- Canada and its cultures?
- History of tourism and travel?

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES:

- Museums and archives
- Government service
- Private sector/industry jobs
- Law
- Media/Journalism
- Education

CONTACT INFORMATION

Graduate Coordinator:
Dr. Susan Nance
519-824-4120 ext 36227
snance@uoguelph.ca

Graduate Program Assistant:
519-824-4120 ext 36867
hsg@uoguelph.ca

UNIVERSITY OF GUELPH
IMPROVE LIFE.

www.uoguelph.ca/arts/history/graduate-studies