

Preliminary Web Course Description

DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY ALL SEMESTERS

HIST*4470 – SPECIAL HISTORY PROJECT SEMINAR

This course is designed to train honours students in the techniques of research, interpretation and writing of history. The student will propose a topic for intensive study in consultation with a full-time faculty member who has agreed to supervise the student. Together they will agree on an assessment structure, and the faculty member will sign the instructor's approval form.

This course is not electronic registration. Student must seek permission for supervision from an instructor in a subject area of interest to the student. Not all instructors are able to participate in this course. Students are advised to approach and discuss a specific research proposal with a faculty member.

Please see Undergraduate Calendar for full description.

*Please note: This is a preliminary web course description only. The department reserves the right to change without notice any information in this description. The final, binding course outline will be distributed in the first class of the semester.