

PHILOSOPHY GOES PUBLIC

Tues. Feb. 28, 7:00 pm

Guelph Public Library, Main Branch
100 Norfolk Street, Guelph

Join MA student, Kosta Gligorijevic, for his talk entitled:

"Myth, Nature and the Struggle for Balance in Ancient Greece and Today"

This talk will explore the perennial tendency of Western thinkers to describe humanity's place in nature by using mythic and religious language. In telling us how to treat plants, animals and the inanimate world, different thinkers have (and still do) make appeals to the sanctity and harmony of nature. By reflecting on their claims, we will try to make sense of some key myths and find out what makes them so appealing.
