

Undergraduate EUROPEAN STUDIES Conference November 26, 2016

University of Guelph – MacKinnon Bld. Room 233

9:30-10:45 Because Nothing is Ever Black or White – Chair : Lisa McIntosh

- Amanda Balyk (Brock U) : Indicted for Infanticide but Convicted for Concealing? The Impact of the 1803 Ellenborough Act on British Infanticide Trials 1790-1820
- Lidia Van Niekerk (U of Guelph) : Jealousy and Rivalry: A Feminist Historiographical Study of George Sand
- Sarah Bennett (U of Guelph) : Nazi Germany : A Narrative Challenged

10:45-11:00 Coffee Break

11:00-12:15 Shaking Conventions – Chair : Trusha Dash

- Mitchell Kooh (Wilfrid Laurier U) : Naughty Priests and Ne'er-do-wells: A History of Sexuality, Confession, and All Things Penal
- Sarah Young (Wilfrid Laurier U) : Fighting Misery with Irony: Charles Dickens and Victor Hugo on the Death Penalty
- Gregory Fitzgerald (Bates College) : Looking for Clues About German Culture : A Model Scavenger Hunt for Teaching Cultural Courses in Berlin

12:15-1:00 Lunch Break

1:00-2:00 Keynote Address

- Daphne Winland (York U) : "Our beautiful homeland" then and now : diaspora and transnationalism 25 years after the collapse of socialist Europe.

2:00-2:15 Coffee Break

2:15-3:30 Dealing with the Unknown – Chair : Dillon March

- Mauricio Collao (U of Calgary) : Anxiety and the Other in Kristeva and Badiou
- Jack McCart (U of Guelph) : Ethics, Islam, and Ornament in the World of Nineteenth-Century British Design
- Samaneh Fathi (U of Ottawa) : Rhythm: The missing piece of the curriculum

3:30-3:45 Coffee Break

3:45-5:00 People & Environments : Ongoing Adjustments – Chair : Shane Hubbard

- Julianna Felendzer (McMaster U) : Tutela et Tutores: The Protection of the Roman Family
- Emma Gauthier-Mamaril (U of Ottawa) : « Mais n'est-ce pas avec de l'encre qu'on écrit des poèmes ? » : transformations of the perception of melancholy in the 16th and 17th centuries
- Dimitri Treheles (U of Guelph) : "The Last Man" A Comparative Analysis

5:00-5:15 Awards and Closing Remarks

