COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course is an introduction to some of the fundamental concepts, problems and skills of philosophy. We shall deal with such questions as whether God exists, whether there is a real or objective difference between right and wrong, whether it is possible for us to gain reliable knowledge of the natural world, and whether we have free will. The aim of the course is to help you think clearly and systematically about these sort of problems.

You will be expected to read independently from the course text—not all material will be covered in the lectures. Throughout the class our aim will be to develop the ability to critically discuss what you have read and heard, rather than merely to report on it. That is, you should try hard to develop and assess arguments for and against the positions you will encounter.

TEXTS:

- A. Bailey, First Philosophy: Fundamental Problems and Readings in Philosophy (Broadview Press 2002, ISBN: 1-55111-360-0)
- R.M. Martin, The Philosopher's Dictionary (Broadview Press 2002, ISBN: 1-55111-494-1) (Recommended)

All required readings will be from First Philosophy. The readings are often challenging, and you should allow yourself plenty of time to work through them before class.

EVALUATION:

There will be four two-page papers (together worth 32%), a mid-term exam (worth 30%), and a final exam (worth 38%). You do not need to pass all of the assignments in order to pass the course, but students who do not sit the final exam and write at least one of the papers will be graded as "Incomplete."

A: Short Papers.

- These papers will be due in your seminar groups on the following dates:
 Paper 1: The week of Wednesday, September 29th.
 Paper 2: The week of Wednesday, October 6th.
 Paper 3: The week of Wednesday, November 10th.
 Paper 4: The week of Wednesday, November 17th.
- For each paper we'll hand out a topic about a week before the paper is due.
- The papers will be graded out of 30, according to the following scheme:

A+	27	90%
A	26	87%
A-	24	80%
B+	23	77%
B	22	73%
B-	21	70%
C+	20	67%
C	19	63%
C-	18	60%
D+	17	57%
D	16	53%
D-	15	50%
F	0	0%

- Each paper should be no more than about 750 words in length—that is, roughly, between 1½ and 2½ pages. You will need to pay attention to making sure your paper addresses exactly the question which is asked. In grading the essays, we will take into consideration your ability to use correctly and effectively the language appropriate to the assignment: in particular, you should strive to write grammatically, accurately, clearly, precisely and concisely. More detailed evaluation criteria and advice will be provided with the first essay topics.

- Please note that these papers should be handed in to your TA or to me in class. Papers cannot normally be submitted or returned via the department administrative office or through the campus mail system. Papers can be submitted by e-mail only in an emergency.
- Your TAs or I will be happy to talk with you about what we expect in these papers, and give you advice on preparing them. Assistance with writing essays is also available from the Learning Commons (Library, 1st floor, www.learningcommons.uoguelph.ca).

B: Exams.

- The Mid-Term Exam will be held in-class on Monday, October 25th.
- The Final Exam is scheduled for Tuesday, December 7th, 8:30AM-10:30AM, in a location to be announced.
- The two exams will have the same format: there will be a small number of multiple-choice or yes/no questions, but most of the exam will consist in short-answer essay questions (each marked out of 30 according to the above scheme).
- The exam will not be open book, but you can bring a 'cheat sheet' to both exams. On a standard sheet of 8½"×11" paper you can write anything at all that you think might help you, on either or both sides, and you can refer to that sheet (but nothing else) during the exam.
- After the mid-term exam (but not the Final) you may submit an optional term paper (within about two weeks of the return of the test): the term paper mark will, if higher, replace the mark of the corresponding test, unless the test grade was an F (in which case that mark will stand). Come and see me to talk about this if want to take this option: the paper should be about 8 pages long and on a topic which was covered by the test.

The essays and exam will be graded using standards described in Section VIII of the Undergraduate Calendar (<http://www.uoguelph.ca/registrar/calendars/undergraduate/current/c08/c08-grds.shtml>).

E-MAIL COMMUNICATION:

As per university regulations, all students are required to check their <uoguelph.ca> e-mail account regularly: e-mail is the official route of communication between the university and its students.

WHEN YOU CANNOT MEET A COURSE REQUIREMENT...

When you find yourself unable to meet an in-course requirement because of illness or compassionate reasons, please advise the course instructor (or designated person, such as a teaching assistant) in writing, with your name, ID number, and e-mail contact. See the Undergraduate Calendar for information on regulations and procedures for Academic Consideration (<http://www.uoguelph.ca/registrar/calendars/undergraduate/current/c08/c08-ac.shtml>).

LATE PENALTIES:

Unless other arrangements are made, in writing, with the course instructor or TA, late assignments will be penalized by 5% for the first day they are late and then 2% for every subsequent day. (For example, a grade that otherwise would have been 77% will be 68% for an essay that is three days late.) To 'stop the clock' for a late assignment, email it to the TA as soon as it is completed; then hand in a hard copy at your next seminar meeting or the TA's office hours.

DROP DATE:

The last date to drop one-semester Fall 2010 courses, without academic penalty, is Thursday November 4. For regulations and procedures for Dropping Courses, see the Undergraduate Calendar (<http://www.uoguelph.ca/registrar/calendars/undergraduate/current/c08/c08-drop.shtml>).

COPIES OF OUT-OF-CLASS ASSIGNMENTS:

Keep paper and/or other reliable back-up copies of all out-of-class assignments: you may be asked to resubmit work at any time.

ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT:

The University of Guelph is committed to upholding the highest standards of academic integrity and enjoins all members of the University community—faculty, staff, and students—to be aware of what constitutes academic misconduct and to do as much as possible to prevent academic offences from occurring. The Academic Misconduct Policy is detailed in the Undergraduate Calendar (<http://www.uoguelph.ca/registrar/calendars/undergraduate/current/c08/c08-amisconduct.shtml>).

RECORDING OF MATERIALS:

Presentations in relation to course work—including lectures—cannot be recorded in any electronic media without the permission of the presenter, whether the instructor, a classmate or guest lecturer.

STUDENTS REQUIRING ADDITIONAL SUPPORT:

Resources are available to you if you require additional support in the course (e.g. if you have a learning disability or are dealing with other issues that are impacting on your ability to meet the course requirements). I encourage you to come and discuss this me, and to contact the appropriate university resource. The Centre for Students with Disabilities (which includes learning disabilities) is on Level 3 of the University Centre (www.counselling.uoguelph.ca/csd/), as is Counselling Services (www.counselling.uoguelph.ca/counselling/).

RESOURCES:

- a. The Undergraduate Calendar is the source of information about the University of Guelph's procedures, policies and regulations which apply to undergraduate programs. It can be found at: <http://www.uoguelph.ca/registrar/calendars/undergraduate/current/>.
- b. The best resource for general academic counselling (e.g. about degree requirements, or for approval to add/drop a course) is your program counsellor: these are listed at http://www.uoguelph.ca/uaic/program_counsellors.shtml. The Philosophy Department's academic advisor for undergraduates is Prof. John Russon, extension 53553, jrusson@uoguelph.ca.
