CALENDAR DESCRIPTION:

This course provides a foundation in the technical and theoretical aspects of contemporary two-dimensional media. Through a combination of lectures, studio projects and guest speakers the students will explore perceptual, conceptual and topical dimensions of art making practices.

Restrictions(s): Registration in semesters one, two, three or four. May not register in SART*1060 in same term. This is a Priority Access course. Enrolment may be restricted to particular programs or specializations during certain periods. Please see the departmental website for more information.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course will cast a wide net over two-dimensional art practices. Students will be presented with lectures followed by intensive studio periods. We will explore both traditional and conceptual strategies for art making, focusing on two dimensional media. Slide lectures will assist the student to gain an appreciation of contemporary art contexts for each project. Group and individual critiques, as well as discussion and debate, will help the student to develop their critical language, and their ability to evaluate their own work in progress. Students will develop the capacity to work independently over a sustained period of time on assigned studio projects, both in class and outside of class.

NOTE: This is a 0.5 credit course. Each week, students are expected to spend approximately 4 – 6 hours outside of class on related course work.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

- To introduce students to the basic visual elements fundamental to two-dimensional work.
- To assist students to develop the formal and critical language necessary to analyze artwork. by written evaluation of specific artworks, exhibitions, assigned reading and/or artist's lectures
- To develop an understanding of the visual context, both historical and contemporary, for current art practices.
- To develop the ability to critique their own work and the work of others both in oral and written form

LEARNING OUTCOMES:

- Students will develop a basic familiarity with contemporary artists, art works, and practices.
- Students will develop a basic familiarity with tools and materials for art production.
- Students will develop basic skills at analyzing and discussing art works in a critical context.

METHOD OF EVALUATION:

Week 3 Perform a Line	10%
Week 5 Zine	15%
Week 8 Painted Babies	20%
Week 10 Abject.....	5%
Week 11 Group Project	15%
Week 12 Make it Again.....	20%
Week 12 Participation	15%

Please note the following important guidelines:

Students are expected to actively engage with the both the concepts and processes introduced in the lecture and studio and to apply this knowledge to the production of studio projects. Preliminary exercises will also be held to a high standard.

The main criterion for the evaluation of class exercises and studio projects will be the application of principles discussed in class. Other criteria include: sensitivity to materials, openness to new ideas, the personal challenge undertaken and the student's commitment to the projects.

Participation is critical to success in this class. Participation means not only listening to and answering the instructor's questions, but also sharing in class discussions, including class critiques. Developing good critique skills enables students to critically assess their own work as well as that of their peers and to respond with sensitivity, intelligence and rigor to art and to visual information in general.

SAFETY AND STUDIO RESPONSIBILITIES

Safety in the studio is a priority at all times. In order to ensure the safety of all participants, the safety procedures/guidelines provided by the instructor must be followed. It is your responsibility to attend any safety orientation that is provided. It is imperative that students follow all health and safety procedures and always use the appropriate safety equipment. If you are unsure of the proper use or maintenance of equipment, if you note any faults in the functioning of the equipment, check with the studio technician or an instructor.

Students must clean up after themselves at the end of each class. Group clean-ups are integral aspects of the course expectations. Open studio hours will be posted at the beginning of each session.

ALEXANDER HALL ACCESS:

To access the studio after hours, students will need to get their student cards activated as swipe cards in Zavitz 201 after the first week of classes. You will require your student ID card, your course code and section number. NOTE: it will take at least 24 hours for your card to become active.

E-mail Communication

As per University regulations, all students are required to check their <uoguelph.ca> e-mail account regularly: e-mail is the official route of communication between the university and its students.
