PHILOSOPHY HONOURS SEMINAR [1.0]

Instructor: O. Payrow Shabani

Brief course synopsis:

This research seminar aims to prepare philosophy majors for life after BA, whether it is to apply for employment in government, private sector, law school or graduate program. To that end, two groups of assignments are designed to develop the students' ability beyond what they have learned in their previous years. Practical tasks such as writing a research proposal or a cover letter introduce and assist the students to develop an analytic sense needed to formulate such texts, while philosophical tasks like writing a research paper and commentary aid the students to apply their knowledge to a specific topic of their choosing with the aim of fostering certain critical skills needed for graduate work.
