

Migrations, mobility and diaspora: new conceptualizations, sources and method

University of Guelph, Friday August 16 2013

- 09:00-09:15 coffee and greetings, Associate Dean Stuart McCook, College of Arts
- 09:15-10:05 Scottish apprentices and merchants in late eighteenth-century Spain: the case of Robert Herries
John Stone, Universidad de Barcelona
- 10:05-10:55 True Canadians who love the old flag of their fathers”: Scottish re-migration from Ontario, 1870-1920
Krista Barclay, University of Manitoba
- 10:55-11:10 break
- 11:10-12:00 Transnational mobility amongst First Nations in the Department of Indian Affairs Annual Reports 1864-1916
Ben Hoy, Stanford University
- 12:00-12:50 Medical Diasporas: American ‘Draft Doctors’ emigrating to Canada during the Vietnam War
David Wright, Alex Ketchum and Gregory Marks, McGill University
- 12:50-13:50 Lunch
- 13:50-14:40 Emigrants, stayers, and flitters: demographic and life stage determinants of migration among Scotland’s island residents
Rebecca Lenihan, University of Guelph
- 14:40-15:30 Examining English settlement in Canada in the early-20th century: Record linkage between passenger lists and the 1911 Canadian census
Amy J. Lloyd, University of Edinburgh
- 15:30-15:40 Break
- 15:40-16:30 Extracting life-course evidence from the historical censuses of Canada
Luiza Antonie, Kris Inwood and J. Andrew Ross, University of Guelph
- 16:30-16:45 Concluding comments

Sponsored by the Centre for Scottish Studies, College of Arts and College of Management and Economics