Dr. Margrit Shildrick

"Reconfiguring the Gift: Issues in Organ Transplantation"

Friday October 9, 2009
3:30-5:00 pm
Room: Mackinnon 310

All our welcome.

Reception at Faculty Lounge to follow.

Dr Margrit Shildrick is a Reader in Gender Studies at Queen's University Belfast.

Dr Shildrick's research focuses on the body and particularly on the notion of the anomalous body—whether in relation to sex and gender, disability, ageing, or to cyborgs. Her poststructuralist approach is strongly informed by feminist theory and bioethics.

Her many publications include:

- Shildrick, Margrit (2009) Dangerous Discourses: Subjectivity, Sexuality and Disability (Palgrave Macmillan)
- Shildrick, Margrit and Roxanne Mykitiuk (eds) (2005) Ethics of the Body: Postconventional Challenges (MIT Press)
- Shildrick, Margrit (2002) Embodying the Monster: Encounters with the Vulnerable Self (Sage)
- Price, Janet and Shildrick, Margrit (eds) (1999) Feminist Theory and the Body: A Reader (Edinburgh University Press, and [US] Routledge).
- Shildrick, Margrit and Price, Janet (eds) (1998) Vital Signs: Feminist Reconfigurations of the Bio/logical Body (Edinburgh University Press).
- Shildrick, Margrit (1997) Leaky Bodies and Boundaries: Feminism, Postmodernism and (Bio)ethics (Routledge).
