Course Description:

This course will serve as an introduction to the philosophical thought of the Middle Ages, that is, roughly the period between 500 AD and 1500 AD, in which the religious thought of Judaism, Islam and Christianity played a crucial role. The course will focus on several themes to show that many of the philosophical concerns of the present day were also of concern to thinkers of the period. In particular, we will look at the relationship between faith and reason, the nature of human happiness, the question of whether God exists and, if so, whether his existence can be rationally demonstrated, and the problem of free will, among others. Thinkers to be discussed will include St. Augustine (354-430), Peter Abelard (1079-1142), St. Anselm (1033-1109), al-Farabi (ca. 850-ca. 950) and, of course, St. Thomas Aquinas (1224/25-1274).

Required Texts:

- Arthur Hyman, James Walsh and Thomas Williams, Philosophy in the Middle Ages: The Christian, Islamic and Jewish Traditions.. 3rd ed. Indianapolis: Hackett Publishing Company Ltd., 2010.

Course Requirements:

- 3 Term Quizzes (3 x 20% = 60%)
- Essay (40%)

Student Rights and Responsibilities

Each student at the University of Guelph has rights which carry commensurate responsibilities which, broadly, being a civil and respectful member of the University community. The Rights and Responsibilities are detailed in the Undergraduate Calendar:

<http://www.uoguelph.ca/registrar/calendars/undergraduate/current/c14/c14-strightsrespon.shtml>

Proviso on Academic Misconduct:

The University of Guelph is committed to upholding the highest standards of academic integrity and enjoins all members of the University community – faculty, staff and students – to be aware of what constitutes academic misconduct and to do as much as possible to prevent academic offences from occurring. The University of Guelph takes a very serious view of academic misconduct, and it is your responsibility as a student to be aware of and to abide by the University's policy. Included in the definition of academic misconduct are such activities as cheating on examinations, plagiarism, misrepresentation, and submitting the same material in two different courses without written permission from the relevant instructors.

Note that instructors have the right to use software to aid in the detection of plagiarism or copying and to examine students orally on submitted work. For students found guilty of academic misconduct, serious penalties, up to and including suspension or expulsion can be imposed. Hurried or careless submission of work does not exonerate students of responsibility for ensuring the academic integrity of their work. The Academic Misconduct Policy is detailed in the Undergraduate Calendar:
