Learning Outcomes

Course Learning Outcomes

This course will explore the ancient Greek myths beginning with Hesiod and continuing through later Classical, Hellenistic and Roman interpretations. Areas of emphasis will include the analysis of myth, historical background to Greek myth, the Olympians gods and important legends. Homeric and later epic traditions will be studied in detail.

By the end of this course, you should be able to:

1. Connect specific myths to the cultures that produced them;
2. Identify the histories, and functions of the gods and heroes of classical myth;
3. Identify the literary and the visual iconography of major gods, heroes, and legends of classical myth;
4. Recognize the essentially oral nature of mythology;
5. Examine the ways in which morality deconstructs the idea of an absolute interpretation;
6. Identify the ways in which collection, transcription, and scholarship constantly reinterpret an oral tradition for new generations;
7. Examine the ways in which variant versions of a story focus attention on the invariant elements;
8. Explore a variety of scholarly approaches to mythology in discussion and writing;
9. Develop an appreciation for the range and diversity of mythology and folklore;
10. Identify recurring mythological themes and motifs; and
11. Recognize the role of myth in the arts.

Teaching and Learning Activities

Method of Learning

Why do we still read and study the Greek and Roman myths? While there are many possible answers, surely one important answer is that these stories contain, in some sense, truths that are real for all their embodiment in fictions. Classical mythology provides a rich abundance of traditional stories that pose difficult, and at times uncomfortable, questions about human nature and the cosmos, justice and injustice, communities and individuals, power and helplessness, life and death and the afterlife. These are universal questions that we still ask today, and part of the power of myth has been its ability to provide a space for people throughout the history of western civilization and in the present day to renegotiate their positions on those questions. By examining these mythic tales in the context of the culture that produced them we can come closer to an understanding of why and in what ways these myths might retain interest and meaning for us today.

In this course there is a series of short multiple-choice quizzes. These quizzes are intended to help you "check in" to see how you are doing with the course materials. It is important that you use these quizzes as they were intended — to help you identify what you know and where you need further improvement — so that at the end of the course, when you prepare to for the final exam, you have an accurate sense of your strengths and challenges and can prepare accordingly.

Plan to keep up with the weekly lesson and required readings.

Part of your mark in this course will come from the work you do in the course discussion boards and, more importantly, your reflections upon your efforts during and after the discussions. Be active on the discussion boards.

The research assignment is designed to allow you to explore your personal interests with respect to the course content and develop your research and writing skills.

Assessment Descriptions

Quizzes

Starting in Week 2, each week you will have to complete a short multiple-choice quiz. Each quiz will consist of 10 multiple-choice questions. The questions will be based on unit content, as well as assigned readings from the course textbook.

Discussions and Reflection Papers

Part of your mark in this course will come from the work you do in the course discussion boards and, more importantly, your reflections upon your efforts during and after the discussions. Through the discussions and Reflection Papers you will have an opportunity to demonstrate your ability to apply course concepts in a thoughtful, academic manner.

Research Assignment

You will write an article analysis of no more than 750 words. The article must come from JStor and the topic must reflect the mythological content of the course.

Final Exam

This course requires the use of Respondus LockDown Browser to proctor your online final exam within CourseLink. Use of Lockdown Browser has been implemented to maintain the academic integrity of the final exam. You must download and install LockDown Browser to complete the practice test and final exam.

The final examination covers all course material. The exam will be a combination of multiple-choice questions and one essay answer.

The final exam will be delivered online via the Quizzes tool. The exam is 2 hours in length and will be held on Saturday, December 12. To accommodate students who may be located in various time zones, the exam will be available beginning at 2:30pm.
to 3:30pm Eastern Time (ET). You can enter the exam at any point during this window of time but will only have 2 hours to complete it from when you start writing. For example, if you start writing the exam by 3:00 pm, you will have until 5:00 pm to complete it. After 3:30 pm ET you will no longer be able to enter the exam environment.

Similar to a sit-down exam where you must arrive prior to the start of the exam, it is highly recommended that you enter the online exam environment in Respondus at least 20-30 minutes before the end of the available window to allow enough time for you to complete the Respondus Startup Sequence and ensure that you have the full two hours for the exam.

Please be sure to review the Using Respondus Lockdown Browser instructions by selecting Content on the navbar to locate Assessments in the table of contents panel.

Important Note: There is a mandatory practice test that you are required to take before the online exam. The purpose of the practice test is to ensure that Respondus LockDown Browser is set up properly and that you are comfortable using the software.

If you have any questions regarding the use of Respondus Lockdown Browser or if you encounter any technical issues during the practice test or final exam, please contact CourseLink Support at courselink@uoguelph.ca or 519-824-4120 ext. 56939.

University of Guelph degree and associate diploma students must check WebAdvisor for their examination schedule. Open Learning program students must check the Open Learning Program Final Examination Schedule for their examination schedule.

Communicating with Your Instructor

During the course, your instructor will interact with you on various course matters on the course website using the following ways of communication:

- Announcements: The instructor will use Announcements on the Course Home page to provide you with course reminders and updates. Please check this section frequently for course updates from your instructor.

- Ask Your Instructor Discussion: Use this discussion forum to ask questions of your instructor about content or course-related issues with which you are unfamiliar. If you encounter difficulties, the instructor is here to help you. Please post general course-related questions to the discussion forum so that all students have an opportunity to review the response. To access this discussion forum, select Discussions from the Tools dropdown menu. All technical questions must be directed to CourseLink Support.

- Email: If you have a conflict that prevents you from completing course requirements, or have a question concerning a personal matter, you can send your instructor a private message by email. The instructor will respond to your email within 48 to 72 hours.

Netiquette Expectations

For distance education courses, the course website is considered the classroom and the same protections, expectations, guidelines, and regulations used in face-to-face settings apply, plus other policies and considerations that come into play specifically because these courses are online.

Inappropriate online behaviour will not be tolerated. Examples of inappropriate online behaviour include:

- Posting inflammatory messages about your instructor or fellow students;
- Using obscene or offensive language online;
- Copying or presenting someone else's work as your own;
- Adapting information from the Internet without using proper citations or references;
- Buying or selling term papers or assignments;
- Posting or selling course materials to course notes websites;
- Having someone else complete your quiz or completing a quiz for/with another student;
- Stating false claims about lost quiz answers or other assignment submissions;
- Threatening or harassing a student or instructor online;
- Discriminating against fellow students, instructors, and/or TAs;
- Using the course website to promote profit-driven products or services;
- Attempting to compromise the security or functionality of the learning management system;
- Sharing your username and password; and
- Recording lectures without the permission of the instructor.

Submission of Assignments to Dropbox

The Research Paper and two Reflection Papers should be submitted electronically via the online Dropbox tool. When submitting your assignments using the Dropbox tool, do not leave the page until your assignment has successfully uploaded. To verify that your submission was complete, you can view the submission history immediately after the upload to see which files uploaded successfully. The system will also email you a receipt. Save this email receipt as proof of submission.

Be sure to keep a back-up copy of all of your assignments in the event that they are lost in transition. In order to avoid any last-minute computer problems, your instructor strongly recommend you save your assignments to a cloud-based file storage (e.g., Google Docs), or send to your email account, so that should something happen to your computer, the assignment could still be submitted on time or re-submitted.

It is your responsibility to submit your assignments on time as specified on the Schedule. Be sure to check the technical requirements and make sure you have the proper computer, that you have a supported browser, and that you have reliable Internet access. Remember that technical difficulty is not an excuse not to turn in your assignment on time. Don’t wait until the last minute as you may get behind in your work.

If, for some reason, you have a technical difficulty when submitting your assignment electronically, please contact your instructor or CourseLink Support.

http://spaces.uoguelph.ca/ed/contact-us/

Late Policy

If you choose to submit your individual assignments to the Dropbox tool late, the full allocated mark will be reduced by 10% per day after the deadline for the submission of the assignment to a limit of six days at which time access to the Dropbox folder will be closed.

Extensions will be considered for medical reasons or other extenuating circumstances. If you require an extension, discuss this with the instructor as soon as possible and well before the due date. Barring exceptional circumstances, extensions will not be granted once the due date has passed. These rules are not designed to be arbitrary, nor are they inflexible. They are designed to keep you organized, to ensure that all students have the same amount of time to work on assignments, and to help to return marked materials to you in the shortest possible time.

Obtaining Grades and Feedback

Unofficial assessment marks will be available in the Grades tool of the course website.

Your instructor will have grades posted online within 2 weeks of the submission deadline, if the assignment was submitted on time. Once your assignments are marked you can view your grades on the course website by selecting Grades from the Tools dropdown menu on the navbar. Your course will remain open to you for seven days following the last day of the final exam period.

University of Guelph degree students can access their final grade by logging into WebAdvisor (using your U of G central ID). Open Learning program students should log in to the OpenEd Student Portal to view their final grade (using the same username and password you have been using for your courses).

Rights and Responsibilities When Learning Online

For distance education (DE) courses, the course website is considered the classroom and the same protections, expectations, guidelines, and regulations used in face-to-face settings apply, plus other policies and considerations that come into play specifically because these courses are online.

For more information on your rights and responsibilities when learning in the online environment, visit Rights and Responsibilities.
Turnitin Originality Check

In this course, your instructor will be using Turnitin, integrated with the CourseLink Dropbox tool, to detect possible plagiarism, unauthorized collaboration or copying as part of the ongoing efforts to maintain academic integrity at the University of Guelph.

All individual assignments submitted to the Dropbox tool will be included as source documents in the Turnitin.com reference database solely for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of such papers. Use of the Turnitin.com service is subject to the Usage Policy posted on the Turnitin.com site.

A major benefit of using Turnitin is that you will be able to educate and empower yourself in preventing academic misconduct. In this course, you may screen your own assignments through Turnitin as many times as you wish before the due date. You will be able to see and print reports that show you exactly where you have properly and improperly referenced the outside sources and materials in your assignment.
