Learning Outcomes

Course Learning Outcomes

This course provides an introduction to the discipline of Linguistics. Students will learn the basic concepts and methods used by linguists in the scientific study of human language. While many key aspects will be illustrated using evidence derived primarily from English, we will discuss evidence from a variety of languages in order to better demonstrate linguistic processes and the richness of linguistic diversity. Students will become familiar with how linguists approach and analyze language in primary fields of linguistic analysis such as morphology (word structure), syntax (phrases and sentences), semantics (meaning), phonetics (types of sounds), and phonology (rules of phonetic processes), language in society, and writing.

By the end of this course, you should be able to:

1. Analyze and articulate general themes about the nature of human language, and how languages work;
2. Discuss fundamental processes common to all languages related to the domains of morphology, syntax, phonetics, phonology, semantics, pragmatics, writing systems, and language in society;
3. Describe how different human languages are, and yet how fundamentally similar they are in their structures;
4. Apply findings in previous linguistic research to address real world issues, and be able to discuss language issues in an informed way both to linguists and non-linguists;
5. Identify and analyze language patterns, draw generalizations from a set of data, and make hypotheses to explain those patterns;
6. Question popular beliefs and think critically about language and language myths and determine their validity;
7. Outline your own beliefs about attitudes towards languages and how those influence the way language is used; and
8. Analyze how language varies across speakers, over time, and across dialectal regions.

Teaching and Learning Activities

Method of Learning

Each unit of the course presents a summary and explanation of a topic that correlates with a textbook chapter. Students will be assigned background readings from the textbook and will be given practice exercises for each unit that will allow them to deepen their understanding of each subject.

During each unit, students will participate in that unit's discussion forum. Discussion questions that have been designed to reinforce the concepts covered in the unit will be posted in the forum by the instructor. Students will be required to respond to one question (write one original post) and to comment on one classmate's response for a total of two posts per unit. The discussion forum will allow students to engage with one another and share ideas to extend their learning.

At the end of each week, students will take a quiz to evaluate their understanding of the material. Throughout the course, they will also complete three short assignments that will allow them to put their knowledge of linguistic concepts into practice.

Assessment Descriptions

Unit Quizzes

There are TWELVE-unit quizzes that cover the material of the EIGHT units in the course. You can access the quizzes by clicking on the Quizzes tool (located in the Tools dropdown list in the course navbar). Dates for each quiz can be found in the Schedule (found above in this Outline). There will be one quiz per week that covers the material indicated on the Schedule. Each quiz will be available for the last four days of the material covered in that week. (Note: the Morphology, Syntax, Phonetics and Language and Society units are 2 weeks long, so these units will have 2 quizzes, each covering half of the chapter. The chapters: What is Language?, Semantics, Phonology and Writing Systems units are 1 week long, and have only 1 quiz. 11 out of the 12 Quizzes will count towards your final grade. One quiz with the lowest score will be dropped.

Assignments

You will complete 3 assignments throughout the semester that will allow you to explore the practical applications of the course material. You will find the assignments by selecting Content on the Navbar and clicking on Assessments. Each assignment will become available for you to access two weeks before the due date. You will submit the assignments using Dropbox. Please note that the assignment on phonetics will be done online. Be mindful of each assignment deadline (date AND time) to avoid any late penalties. Check the Announcements on CourseLink for further instructions from your professor.

Discussion Participation

During each unit, you are required to participate in that unit's discussion forum. Discussion questions that have been designed to reinforce the concepts covered in the unit will be posted in the forum by the instructor. For each unit, you will respond to a minimum of one discussion question (write one original post) AND comment on a minimum of one classmate's response for a total of two posts per unit. Each post will be graded out of 10. A rubric is posted in the Assessments section outlining the criteria on which your posts will be evaluated. Eight completed units will be calculated as 20% of your final grade.

Netiquette Expectations

For distance education courses, the course website is considered the classroom and the same protections, expectations, guidelines, and regulations used in face-to-face settings apply, plus other policies and considerations that come into play specifically because these courses are online.

Inappropriate online behaviour will not be tolerated. Examples of inappropriate online behaviour include:

- Posting inflammatory messages about your instructor or fellow students;
- Using obscene or offensive language online;
- Copying or presenting someone else's work as your own;
- Adapting information from the Internet without using proper citations or references;
- Buying or selling term papers or assignments;
- Posting or selling course materials to course notes websites;
- Having someone else complete your quiz or completing a quiz for/with another student;
- Stating false claims about lost quiz answers or other assignment submissions;
- Threatening or harassing a student or instructor online;
- Discriminating against fellow students, instructors, and/or TAs;
- Using the course website to promote profit-driven products or services;
- Attempting to compromise the security or functionality of the learning management system;
- Sharing your username and password; and
- Recording lectures without the permission of the instructor.

Submission of Assignments to Dropbox

Assignments 1 and 3 should be submitted electronically via the online Dropbox tool. Assignment 2 is to be completed online. When submitting your assignments using the Dropbox tool, do not leave the page until your assignment has successfully uploaded. To verify that your submission was complete, you can view the submission history immediately after the upload to see which files uploaded successfully. The system will also email you a receipt. Save this email receipt as proof of submission.

Be sure to keep a back-up copy of all of your assignments in the event that they are lost in transition. In order to avoid any last-minute computer problems, your instructor strongly recommend you save your assignments to a cloud-based file storage (e.g., Google Docs), or send to your email account, so that should something happen to your computer, the assignment could still be submitted on time or re-submitted.

It is your responsibility to submit your assignments on time as specified on the Schedule. Be sure to check the technical requirements and make sure you have the proper computer, that you have a supported browser, and that you have reliable Internet access. Remember that technical difficulty is not an excuse not to turn in your assignment on time. Don't wait until the last minute as you may get behind in your work.

If, for some reason, you have a technical difficulty when submitting your assignment electronically, please contact your instructor or CourseLink Support.

<https://support.opened.uoguelph.ca/contact>

Late Policy

If you choose to submit your assignments to the Dropbox tool late, the full allocated mark will be reduced by 5% per day after the deadline for the submission of the assignment to a limit of six days at which time access to the Dropbox folder will be closed.

Extensions will be considered for medical reasons or other extenuating circumstances. If you require an extension, discuss this with the instructor as soon as possible and well before the due date. Barring exceptional circumstances, extensions will not be granted once the due date has passed. These rules are not designed to be arbitrary, nor are they inflexible. They are designed to keep you organized, to ensure that all students have the same amount of time to work on assignments, and to help to return marked materials to you in the shortest possible time.

Obtaining Grades and Feedback

Unofficial assessment marks will be available in the Grades tool of the course website.

Your instructor will have grades posted online within 2 weeks of the submission deadline, if the assignment was submitted on time. Once your assignments are marked you can view your grades on the course website by selecting Grades from the Tools dropdown menu on the navbar. Your course will remain open to you for seven days following the last day of the final exam period.

University of Guelph degree students can access their final grade by logging into WebAdvisor (using your U of G central ID). Open Learning program students should log in to the OpenEd Student Portal to view their final grade (using the same username and password you have been using for your courses).
