Information and Communication - Adaptive Technology

Certain technology can make information traditionally inaccessible to people with specific disabilities available for their use. Below is a list of adaptive technology resources.

Assistive Devices Canadian Company Directory [1]
Links to companies working in the Information and Communications Technologies sector. Links are divided into types of disability or assistive devices from which you can search companies within that particular sector.

Source URL (retrieved on 08/11/2017 - 01:13): https://www.uoguelph.ca/diversity-human-rights/accessibility/information-and-communication-adaptive-technology

Links: