Course Description

Market economies primarily rely upon the price system as a means of allocating resources in the non-governmental sector of the economy. The objective of Introductory Microeconomics is to develop in students an understanding and appreciation of this price system. The course will survey the strengths and weaknesses of the market economy, as well as the successes and failures of government intervention in the market. A solid foundation of basic theory is required in order to evaluate the strengths and weaknesses of the market system. Once students have acquired facility in handling these analytical tools, attention will turn towards issues of public policy such as marketing boards, competition policy, environmental policy, and trade policy.

Course Assessment

			Type of assessment	Due Date/ location
Assessment 1:	35%	Midterm	The test will consist of multiple-choice questions.	Friday February 26 from 7:00 to 9:00 pm
Assessment 2:	45%	Final Exam	The multiple choice final exam will cover the entire course but more weight will be given to the material covered after the midterm test.	Thursday April 21st from 11:30 am to 1:30 pm
Assessment 3:	10%	MyEconLab (MEL) Assignments	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• There is one assignment per week, for a total of 12. Only the top 10 will count. Assignments will be completed on-line using MEL software.</li><li>• Each assignment MUST be completed by its due date. Due dates are indicated in MEL (during the term) and in CourseLink (at the end of the semester).</li><li>• You are allowed unlimited attempts per assignment and your</li></ul>

grade is the highest of your attempts. Thus, you should try to get perfect on these assignments to be adequately prepared for exams.

Assessment 4: 10% PEAR Writing Assignments

- All assignments are to be done individually. Please allow 24 hours for servicing of technical difficulties. Contact Pearson with any technical problems.
- Refer to CourseLink for instructions about using MEL.
- You will be required to complete two on-line writing assignments: (Due on Wednesdays at noon)
  - 1) February 3rd—Submission of assignment 1
  - 2) Feb. 24th—Submission of comments and grades of 5 other assignments which are randomly assigned to you.
  - 3) March 16th—Submission of assignment 2
  - 4) Mar. 30th—Submission of comments and grades of 5 other assignments
- Each part of the assignment must be completed by the due dates. There is a small window between phases to handle problems but it is very small. Once the next phase is released your submission is too late and you will receive a grade of zero on the entire assignment. You must do every part to get a grade.
- Due dates are indicated in Courselink and on this outline. Contact the TA (not the instructors) if you have timing problems with either MEL, Turnitin or PEAR

The writing assignment is based on Cocktail Party Economics:

PEAR Assignment 1 Write 600-750 words on the following topic:

The first five chapters of Cocktail Party Economics by Evie Adomait and Richard Maranta discuss the concepts of scarcity, value, exchange, production, and comparative advantage. Chapters six and seven discuss the concepts of demand and supply respectively, while chapter eight introduces the concept of equilibrium. Pick any two of these economic concepts as it relates to an issue currently in the news (print, online text or video, radio, television, etc.) and use CPE to analyze and comment on that particular issue. Reference the issue you have chosen with media sources and reference CPE with the page numbers (ex Pg45. Pg 66) where the two concepts appear. Examples of media sources include newspapers, magazines, blogs, press releases, radio or television broadcasts, online video, documentaries etc.

PEAR Assignment 2 Write 600 – 750 words on the following topic:

In chapters nine through twelve of Cocktail Party Economics, Evie Adomait and Richard Maranta discuss the conditions required for competitive markets to be efficient, and write about those circumstances under which market outcomes are less than efficient. They also argue that while perfectly functioning competitive markets are efficient, it is unlikely that market outcomes are equitable. Write an opinion piece on one of the 5 following topics as it relates to equity and efficiency– 1) the Canadian government’s intervention in agricultural markets (such as poultry and dairy), 2) the provision of public education, 3) air and water pollution produced by Canadian industry, 4) monopoly and monopsony, and 5) financial markets. Choose only one of the topics - assess whether markets result in economically efficient outcomes and whether those outcomes are "equitable" (define what YOU mean by equitable) and whether government policy can result in a change in economic efficiency and equity. Use both media sources and MEL as reference material (see PEAR essay 1 instructions for more information on media sources).

Total                      100%

Course Resources

Required Texts:

Michael Parkin and Robin Bade, Microeconomics, Canada in the Global Environment, 9th Ed. Purchased new, the textbook is bundled with an access code for MyEconLab (MEL). If you purchase a used textbook, you will have to purchase a stand-alone access code for MyEconLab. Note that an access code provides you an electronic copy of the textbook.

Eveline Adomait and Richard Maranta, Cocktail Party Economics: The Big Ideas and Scintillating Small Talk about Markets

Course Policies

Grading Policies

Administrative Issues

- Final Exam Conflicts: Any student who has a time conflict with the final examination may not register in this course.
- Only simple basic calculators will be allowed. (See Courselink for examples of allowable calculators.) If you bring the wrong type of calculator to the exam, it will be confiscated and returned to you after the exam if over. You will have to do the exam without the use of a calculator.
- Bring lead pencils and your student photo ID to the test and final examination.
- Midterm results and answer keys will be posted on Courselink.
- There will be a makeup test for students who have documented medical or compassionate reasons (this includes emails from varsity coaches or high school convocation ceremonies) for missing the midterm. Please check Courselink for details. There are no make-up MEL assignments (remember 2 can be dropped without penalty).

Course Outline, Required Textbook Reading and MyEconLab due dates:

We will cover Chapters 1 - 18 (excluding chapter 9 pages 212-213) of the textbook. It may be that we don't have time to cover some of the material in the 18 chapters. If not you will be alerted to that in class and a news item will detail the excluded pages. You should be reading the chapters sequentially starting with the 1st chapter (an introductory chapter that we only briefly be mentioned in class if at all). Your instructor will typically tell you the coverage of the lecture and the topics (or chapter number) for the next lecture during the lecture itself.

Your professor may not cover every topic or section of the textbook and may present material in a different manner than described in the textbook. You are responsible, nevertheless, for all material assigned in the textbook.

Note: MEL Experience shows that technical problems seem to happen primarily to people who are trying to submit an assignment at the last minute! Technical problems occurring in the 4 hours preceding the deadline will not be accepted as an excuse for not submitting an assignment.

University Policies

Academic Consideration

When you find yourself unable to meet an in-course requirement because of illness or compassionate reasons, please advise the course instructor in writing, with your name, id#, and e-mail contact. See the academic calendar for information on regulations and procedures for

Academic Consideration: <http://www.uoguelph.ca/registrar/calendars/undergraduate/current/c08/c08-ac.shtml>

Academic Misconduct

The University of Guelph is committed to upholding the highest standards of academic integrity and it is the responsibility of all members of the University community, faculty, staff, and students to be aware of what constitutes academic misconduct and to do as much as possible to prevent academic offences from occurring.

University of Guelph students have the responsibility of abiding by the University's policy on academic misconduct regardless of their location of study; faculty, staff and students have the responsibility of supporting an environment that discourages misconduct. Students need to remain aware that instructors have access to and the right to use electronic and other means of detection. Please note: Whether or not a student intended to commit academic misconduct is not relevant for a finding of guilt. Hurried or careless submission of assignments does not excuse students from responsibility for verifying the academic integrity of their work before submitting it. Students who are in any doubt as to whether an action on their part could be construed as an academic offence should consult with a faculty member or faculty advisor.

The Academic Misconduct Policy is detailed in the Undergraduate Calendar:

<https://www.uoguelph.ca/registrar/calendars/undergraduate/2015-2016/>

Accessibility

The University of Guelph is committed to creating a barrier-free environment. Providing services for students is a shared responsibility among students, faculty and administrators. This relationship is based on respect of individual rights, the dignity of the individual and the University community's shared commitment to an open and supportive learning environment. Students requiring service or accommodation, whether due to an identified, ongoing disability or a short-term disability should contact the Centre for Students with Disabilities as soon as possible.

Course Learning Outcomes

In keeping with the University's Learning Outcomes, the Department of Economics and Finance

Learning Outcomes (skills and knowledge competencies) for this course are:

Skills:

1) Written Communication:

There is one PEAR writing assignments which will be graded with the usual essay writing criteria except for the requirement of a bibliography. The essay will ask you to evaluate the content and approach in Cocktail Party Economics.

2) Numerical Problem Solving:

Students will learn basic problem solving techniques used in microeconomics. For example, this includes techniques to calculate elasticities, determine the market equilibrium, and compute total/marginal/ average costs. This will be assessed with weekly assignments, midterm and the final exam.

3) Analytical Problem Solving:

The course will use graphical analysis to demonstrate and interpret various economic models, including the demand and supply model, market equilibrium determination, the impact of government regulation on the economy. This will be tested on assignments and midterm.

4) Problem Solving in a Real World Context:

Students will apply the microeconomic principles learned in this course to critically examine everyday economic events. This will be assessed with weekly assignments, midterm and final exam.

5) Professional and ethical awareness and conduct:

There will be no extensions on MyEconLab and PEAR assignments in order to access time management skills.

Knowledge:

1) Mathematical Methodology:

Students will apply mathematical concepts and tools, such as computing the slope of a line or graphing the relationship between variables, to explain basic economic models and the interaction between economic variables. This will be tested on assignments, midterm and the final exam.

2) Microeconomic Modeling:

Students must understand basic principles of microeconomics (including demand and supply, utility and consumer choice, production and cost, market structure, government intervention and international trade), demonstrate basic economic models (ex. the demand and supply model).

3) Understanding of Specific Markets:

Specific markets will be analyzed in this course, including goods markets, housing market and labour market. This will be tested on assignments, midterm and the final exam.

4) Economic Policy and Regulation:

Students must understand the successes and failures of government intervention in the market and explain the role of public policies, such as competition policy, environmental policy, and trade policy. This will be tested on assignments, midterm and the final exam.
