

Teaching and Development Fellowship Winners (or Recipients), 2011-12

The Provost's office is pleased to announce winners of the first round of Study and Development Fellowships. This program, developed in cooperation with CUPE 3913, is offered in recognition of the scholarly contribution of long-serving Sessionals to teaching and pedagogy.

2011-2012 Award Winners (in alphabetical order)

Kim Bolton, School of Environmental Design and Rural Development, OAC/ CPES

Susan Detwiler, School of Fine Art and Music, COA

Ayman Elmesalami, School of Computer Science, CPES

Deidre Rose, Sociology/Anthropology, CSAHS

Edward Smith, History, COA

These Fellowship winners will spend one semester developing innovations in pedagogy in areas such as distance education learning, the teaching of critical thinking skills, and interdisciplinary approaches to emerging fields like bioremediation.

We sincerely thank all applicants for their interest in this program.

Information regarding the 2012-2013 application process will be made available in the Winter Semester.
