Department and Program Overview

The Department of Family Relations and Applied Nutrition is one of departments in the College of Social and Applied Human Sciences (CSAHS). The College was created in 1998 through the merger of the former College of Family and Consumer Studies (FACS) and College of Social Science (CSS). The College traces its history back through FACS to Macdonald Institute, one of the founding colleges of the University of Guelph.

Adult Development (ADEV) is one of three majors of the Bachelor of Applied Science (B.A.Sc.) program. The other majors are Applied Human Nutrition (AHN) and Child, Youth and Family (CYF)

The Adult Development major focuses on health and well-being from young adulthood to old age within the context of changing family relationships and diverse social and cultural influences. Courses focus on current research and theory in adult development and aging, family relationships, human sexuality, social policy and community services. Field placements and community service learning opportunities enable students to gain knowledge, skills and values appropriate for work with individuals and groups in a variety of settings.

This interdisciplinary program is designed to provide students with an understanding of the influence of psychological, social, biological and economic factors on individual development, capabilities, health and relationships across the lifespan. It is one of several majors in the Department that share an over-riding goal of applying knowledge to promote individual and family well-being. This major offers a high degree of flexibility for students, who may choose to deepen their studies in one or more of the core content areas in the major (adulthood and aging, family and social relationships, human sexuality, or health and well-being) and/or to choose electives in a related or complementary field or declare a minor.

The academic program in the Adult Development majors provides a combination of traditional lectures and seminars with the application of theory in practicum courses. These practicum courses enable students to apply the social and biological components of human behaviour in various family, community and educational settings. Students work directly in the community with organizations and agencies that support adults and families during in their 3rd year; and have the option of completing a second placement in their 4th year. This variety of experiences affords students greater opportunity to apply the theory obtained in class to real-world issues.

The Co-operative Education program in Adult Development enables students to get on-the-job experience which deepens the connection between study and professional work. Co-op helps students provides real-world experience and apply working knowledge to gain a greater understanding in classes.

Graduates of this program are pursuing careers in a variety of settings including family and community service agencies, government departments, services for seniors and their families, health care agencies, employee and family assistance programs, and local social planning councils. This program provides a solid foundation for the pursuit of graduate studies in fields such as social work, family relations, gerontology, occupational therapy, family law and mediation, couple and family therapy, education, sexual health, human resource management (business) and health studies.

ADEV-The Practicum Experience

Practicum courses are a unique component of the BAsC degree. The practicum experience provides students an opportunity to work alongside professionals in the field and receive ongoing supervision and feedback. It is this experience that enables students to integrate what they learn in the classroom with professional practice. All ADEV students are required to take a practicum (FRHD*3290) in the Fall or Winter of the third year of study. There is also an optional practicum offered in the Fall, Winter or Spring of fourth year (FRHD*4290). In both third and fourth year, students are placed within a range of community agencies and human service organizations.

A required course that prepares students to go into the practicum is FRHD*2400, Introduction to Human Services, offered in the winter of the second year of study. It is within this course that students prepare to be placed with an agency or organization that corresponds with their interests and learning objectives. Because of this, it is important that students take the Program Design course in sequence and not before winter of their second year (4th semester of study)

Students must have the consent of the Practicum Coordinator or designate to take practicum courses. This includes having a course waiver signed to register for the course. Once your intention to register for the practicum is confirmed, a lottery system is used to determine which semester students will register for their practicum. The Practicum Coordinator matches students with available placements in the community. Sometimes students decide to study part time or take courses out of sequence. If that is the case for you, it is essential that you are in touch with the Practicum Coordinator as early as possible. This will ensure that you are not missed in the preparations for placement.

If a student decides to withdraw from the practicum course, it is essential that he or she notify the Practicum Coordinator and Course Instructor immediately.

Planning for international study requires consultation with your Program Counsellor and the Centre for International Programs.

Can I take a course at another university and get credit towards my program?

If you want to take a course at another university and get credit towards your degree, you must complete a Request for Letter of Permission form. Review the "Letters of Permission" topic within the "Undergraduate Degree Regulations and Procedures" section of the Undergraduate Calendar".

Should I keep my course outlines?

Yes. We receive frequent requests from students following graduation for copies of their course outlines for various reasons, such as applying for membership in a professional college. Most course outlines for Family Relations and Applied Nutrition courses are posted on our website at: <http://www.uoquelp.ca/family/undergraduate-courses>

What scholarships and awards are available?

Information about scholarships and awards is available in the undergraduate calendar. There are three types of awards available: scholarships, bursaries, and access awards. Scholarship applications are based on academic achievement and extracurricular involvement. Bursaries and Access Awards are distributed based on financial need, as well as academic achievement and extracurricular involvement. The link in the undergraduate calendar is listed below and further information may be found regarding requirements, application procedures and deadlines.

<http://www.uoquelp.ca/registrar/calendars/undergraduate/current/c09/index.shtml>

What marks do I need to stay in the program?

Generally, you are required to maintain a minimum average of 60% to stay in the program. There is some leniency for the first 5.00 credit attempts. Please review the “Continuation of Study” topic within the section “Undergraduate Degree Regulations and Procedures” of the Undergraduate Calendar. Consult with your Program Counsellor if you have questions or concerns.

What if I have health or other problems that are affecting my academic work?

Student Health Services is in the J.T. Powell Building for treatment of your health concerns. To discuss academic concerns because of health conditions, make an appointment to talk with the Program Counsellor. You may also visit Counselling Services, J.T Powell Building to help manage your difficulties. Read carefully the “Academic Consideration and Appeals, Petitions” section under “Undergraduate Degree Regulations and Procedures”, especially the sub-section “Academic Consideration” and “Student Responsibilities” to be sure that you follow the necessary procedures. If you miss an assignment deadline or a mid-term exam, contact the course instructor as soon as possible. Check the course outline to see if there is a standard process for handling missed assignments and/or mid-terms.

Can I drop a course?

If you feel that you absolutely must drop a course, the procedure is quite easy. Before making the decision, see how dropping the course will affect your Program Plan. If the course is a prerequisite for other courses, contact your Program Counsellor or Faculty Advisor to ensure you have a feasible plan for completing your degree. If you drop a required course, you must take it again in another semester. You need 20 credits to graduate; therefore, you may have to take an extra course either in the summer or during another semester. Check when the course is offered again. To avoid academic penalty, courses that are one semester long must be dropped by the last day of classes. For two-semester courses, they must be dropped by the last day of classes in the second semester. Check the Undergraduate Calendar Schedule of Studies for the actual dates:

<https://www.uoquelp.ca/registrar/calendars/undergraduate/current/c03/index.shtml>

You may drop the course on Web Advisor. Refer to the Student Financial Services website regarding refunds at <http://www.uoguelph.ca/registrar/studentfinance/index.cfm?fees/refunds>. If you are on OSAP (Ontario Student Assistance Program), there may be consequences on your OSAP funding when dropping your course load below 1.50 credits. Contact Student Financial Services at fininfo@uoguelph.ca or call 519-824-4120, Ext. 58715 before dropping courses.

Can defer a final exam?

You may request to have a final exam or final assignment deferred if you have medical, psychological or compassionate grounds. You must submit your Request for Academic Consideration (RAC) within 5 days of the missed final examination or final assignment. A deferred exam is usually written during a specified time early in the following term. If you are unable to write a final exam, contact the BAsC. Counselling Office to arrange an appointment to ensure all appropriate procedures are being followed. See also the, "Deferred Privileges" in the "Undergraduate Degree Regulations and Procedures" section of the Undergraduate Calendar.

What if I need an extension on an assignment or miss a mid-term exam?

Each course and professor should have specific procedures outlined in the course outline which you are given in the first week of classes. Check this outline and speak to your professor about any problems with completing an assignment. Be sure to do this early!

How will I find out my final grades?

Grade reports are released shortly after conclusion of the final examinations, on the date specified by the University. You may access an unofficial copy of your grades using WebAdvisor from the University of Guelph web site on the same release day.

What if I fail a course?

If you fail a course, you have a chance to take a course again or an alternative course. The summer semester provides opportunity to catch up with failed courses or take electives to lighten course loads in later semesters. For more details, see "Failed Courses" in the "Undergraduate Degree Regulations and Procedures" section of the Undergraduate Calendar. If you believe that there are extenuating circumstances related to failing the course, see the Program Counsellor for assistance. The Program Counsellor will also be willing to meet with you to create a plan to maximize your success when you re-take the course.

What if I think there was a mistake on the final grade for one of my courses?

You may request a grade reassessment. To do this you must submit a request in writing to the chair of the department offering the course, no later than the 10th day of class of the succeeding semester. For details on this process, see "Grade Reassessment" in the "Undergraduate Degree Regulations and Procedures" section of the Undergraduate Calendar.

What if I'm not sure that I'm in the right program?

Make an appointment to talk with the BAsC. Program Counsellor. You can discuss your interests, academic progress, and goals, and consider options and alternatives. You can clarify the degree requirements and find out about other services.

<https://www.uoguelph.ca/uaic/programcounsellors>.

Where do I find the schedule of courses for a particular semester?

The course schedule is available on WebAdvisor>Students>Search for Sections.

Why can't I register for a course I need for my program?

There are several reasons why you may not be able to get into a course at a certain time:

- It may not be your course selection window
- Some courses are restricted to certain groups of students. This is called "Priority Access"
- Some courses require instructor consent (i.e., BASc practicum and thesis courses)
- You may not have the required prerequisites or co-requisites or required credits
- The course/section is full

If you are a BASc major or a Family and Child Studies (FCS) minor (including transfer students), we will make every effort to accommodate your required courses in your unique schedule. You may need a course waiver. This is a paper process. The Course Waiver Request form may be obtained from WebAdvisor, https://www.uoguelph.ca/registrar/sites/undergraduate/files/forms/course_waiver_request.html

or from the BASc Counselling Office, MINS 253. Also, see our department website for the course waiver process for courses offered by Family Relations (FRHD) and Applied Nutrition (some NUTR courses): <http://www.uoguelph.ca/family/undergraduate-course-waivers>

What do I do if a course I need for my program is full when it is my turn to register?

Sometimes a course may look full on WebAdvisor, but there is still room for students who require it for their program of study. Keep your eye on WebAdvisor, as spaces may open up throughout the course selection period. If you are a BASc major or FCS minor (including transfer students), we will make every effort to accommodate your required courses in your unique schedule. You may need a course waiver.

How do I get a course waiver for a BAsC course?

Each department may have a different process for allowing students into their courses. To get into a course from another department, we suggest you contact the course instructor or department directly. In some departments, the instructor of the course signs the course waivers. In the Department of Family Relations and Applied Nutrition for BAsC and other students, most course waivers are signed by Ruth Lesins, Academic Administrative Assistant, franwork@uoguelph.ca, MINS 247. Further information is available at <http://www.uoguelph.ca/family/undergraduate-course-waivers>

How do I get a letter of reference from a faculty member?

References are a CRITICAL component of any application to graduate or professional schools. The guidelines outlined below will help you through the process and there is a link on the department's website at:

<http://www.uoguelph.ca/family/sites/default/files/documents/Reference%20Letters%20-%20Tips%20for%20Students.pdf>

Choose faculty carefully

- ✓ First approach faculty who have taught you 3rd and 4th year level courses
- ✓ Ask whether the faculty member can provide you with a strong letter of reference
- ✓ Letters from assistant, associate or full professors are generally preferred at most Institutions

Request references early

- ✓ Ask whether the faculty member wishes paper or electronic documents
- ✓ Allow at least 3 weeks for faculty to produce letters

Information/materials to provide about yourself

- ✓ Remind the professor of the program you are in and the course(s) you have taken with them (include course code and semester)
- ✓ Brief summary (1/2 page) of your key strengths/areas that you think should be emphasized; especially note any outstanding accomplishments you may have had in the course(s) taught by this particular faculty member
- ✓ Unofficial transcript
- ✓ Draft of your statement of interest/plan of study/letter of intent

Information/materials to provide about the program(s) to which you are applying

- ✓ Name and location of the program
- ✓ Brief description of the program and/or link to the program website, if applicable
- ✓ Type of reference required (i.e., online, forms, letter, etc.)
- ✓ Forms and/or links to the reference forms (Make sure that any required information is on forms, if applicable)
- ✓ Deadline/due date for receipt of letter of reference
- ✓ Address for the letter of reference, and contact person, if applicable
- ✓ You may be asked to provide an addressed envelope in which the faculty member can send the letter of reference

Confirmation

- ✓ Ask the faculty member to confirm that your letter of reference has been sent

How can I get research experience?

There are multiple ways to get research experience as part of your undergraduate studies. For students considering graduate school this may be especially important. Generally, it is recommended you have successfully completed (recommended final grade of 75% or higher) or are currently taking FRHD*3070 Research Methods and/or STAT*2090 Introductory Statistics II. For each option you'll need a faculty member to supervise your research work. It is recommended that you contact a faculty member well in advance of your interest in research (e.g. at least one semester in advance).

Suggested ways to get research experience include:

- Undergraduate thesis: You'll need a faculty member to supervise your research work while you take FRHD*4810, Thesis I and FRHD*4910, Thesis II. FRHD*4810 involves planning and writing the proposal, including critical analysis of the literature. FRHD*4910 involves conducting the research and analysis, writing the results in thesis format, and presenting the work in a suitable venue. Note: an undergraduate thesis is typically a two-semester 1.5 credit commitment.
- Research Internship: The purpose of FRHD*3500 is to give students a direct, initial experience in conducting research in Family Relations and Human Development. The internship focuses on familiarizing students with the research process and building research skills through active engagement in research under the direct guidance of a faculty member. The specific assignments will depend on the research project. Students who are involved in newer research studies may be involved in literature review, study design, and/or the ethics review process. Those who are involved in the latter stages of a research project may gain experience with data analysis and manuscript preparation. Note: the research internship is a one semester 0.5-credit commitment.

For both undergraduate thesis and research internship students need to find a faculty member who agrees to supervise them. To register in either course you will need to be signed in with instructor consent. It is recommended you approach a faculty member well in advance with a copy of your unofficial transcript, your resume, and a summary of your research interests.

- Volunteering: Rather than a formal course where you can gain research experience you can also approach faculty members and request a volunteer position supporting their research. Volunteer research opportunities can range in their intensity of time and duration of commitment.
- Summer Undergraduate Research Assistant: The Undergraduate Research Assistantship (URA) program is a competitive program that provides summer research opportunities to undergraduate students with demonstrated financial need. The application process starts in December, but the research positions begin in May and typically last for 16 weeks. Students gain research experience, work with faculty, and further their insight into their field of studies while earning a salary. Visit Student Financial Services for more information and the link is: <https://www.uoguelph.ca/registrar/studentfinance/ura/index>

Co-operative Education Frequently Asked Questions

What kind of jobs can I expect to see in the co-op program?

Bachelor of Applied Science students work both in the private and public sectors. Positions may be with agencies providing assisted living, life skills coaching, rehabilitative service, therapeutic recreation, respite care and research assistantships in a variety of settings including government offices. Travel is an option as is finding your own job.

What happens during the first year with co-op?

The University of Guelph believes co-op students need to have a strong academic background before they go out on their first work term. Concentrate on your academic work, take time to adapt to university life, make friends and get involved on campus. The only requirement is to maintain a cumulative 70% average throughout first year.

Can I apply for co-op in first year and what are co-op fees?

In course admission information is at the following link: <https://www.recruitguelph.ca/cecs/co-op/course-admission>

The course will help you to identify and market your strengths, enhance your resume and cover letter writing skills, increase your comfort and skill during interviews, and learn more about the co-op employment process. You will receive feedback from the instructor and peer helpers and hear from employers and senior co-op students in your field.

May I take courses during the summer or during work terms so I can graduate sooner?

Some students do choose to do this option. If you are interested, talk to your Faculty Advisor and Program Counsellor about course availability and the impact this will have on your sequence. It is also important to consider the additional time required for a course when working full time and adapting to a new community.

Is Co-op right for me? With whom should I speak?

Graduate and Professional Studies

Students have successfully used the BAsC degree to gain admission into graduate programs in social work, applied psychology, sociology, anthropology, physical and occupational therapy, speech and language, law, public health, and social policy. If you plan to enter a graduate program after completing the Adult Development major of the BAsC degree program you will need to select certain courses as part of your undergraduate program to meet graduate program admission requirements. Sometimes these requirements are quite particular which means that you must plan your course selections early and carefully. When the time comes, we hope you will consider graduate work in our department. See

<http://www.uoguelph.ca/family/graduate-programs-fran>

Although graduate programs differ in their entrance requirements, most graduate programs require that you have taken (at least): one course in research methods; two undergraduate statistics courses; and have completed an undergraduate thesis. For many of the programs you will be required to take Graduate Record Exams (GREs) in the specific field of study.

You are strongly advised to contact the graduate programs that interest you early in your program to determine the specific entrance requirements of each program. It is also recommended that you keep your course outlines in case course content and evaluation is requested.
