Suppliers should be aware that not all University buildings have loading docks. All suppliers must ensure that any special arrangements required for safe delivery of your product due to size, weight or configuration of the product or delivery process meet the University's environmental, health and safety standards and procedures, and any such special requirements are communicated with your delivery staff or any other third party contractors who deliver to the University on your behalf.

Fraudulent Activities Targeting University Suppliers

The University of Guelph has been alerted recently by some other Ontario universities of fraudulent activities where fraudsters have used university names in attempting to defraud suppliers. ?

The University of Guelph is not aware that any of our suppliers have been targeted by these fraudsters so far. However, we would like to advise all suppliers that, if you are asked to ship your products to any delivery point outside of the UofG official delivery locations, please be vigilant and confirm verbally with our Purchasing staff.

What is happening?

- Fraudsters impersonate employees from a university and email suppliers to request quotes for products.
- Once a supplier responds to the email, the fraudsters ask for the products to be shipped to a shipping address that's actually a logistic or warehousing company not affiliated with the university.
- The fraudsters contact the logistics or warehousing company to re-route the shipment via cross docking request.
- The products are gone and the supplier contacts the university for reimbursement.

What should you look out for?

- Fake domains: fraudsters will send emails from domains that look like they are coming from the University, but maybe spelled differently (e.g. @uofguelph.com).
- Suspicious requests: fraudsters will request orders for large quantities of products (e.g. electronics, lab equipment, cameras).

- Unrecognized shipping address: fraudsters will provide suppliers with shipping addresses that are not affiliated with the University in order to re-route products sent by suppliers.

What should you do?

- Call your contacts at the UofG Purchasing Services to confirm the order and the shipping address.

Parking at the University

All suppliers shall observe the University's parking regulations for visitors and contractors. Failure to abide by the University's parking regulations may result in the vehicle being ticketed and/or towed. Detailed information about the University's parking regulations is available at the University's Sustainable Transportation & Parking Services website <https://www.parking.uoguelph.ca/> [7].

All parking should be in the designated area including delivery and service vehicles. All suppliers shall pay for their own parking where parking fee applies.

Guelph Campus is Tobacco- and Smoke-Free

As of May 31, 2019, U of G's Guelph campus is tobacco- and smoke-free. Smoking, vaping and the use of smokeless tobacco - like chew - is prohibited on campus. It's part of our commitment to creating a healthy campus for everyone. Our university joins a growing number of Canadian academic and public institutions that have made the choice to go smoke-free.

U of G's tobacco- and smoke-free campus policy extends to all students, staff and faculty as well as visitors to campus.

A map showing campus boundaries is available online.

Code of Ethical Conduct for Suppliers

The University of Guelph is committed to promoting a greater standard of ethical conduct from suppliers and subcontractors by actively implementing our policy and procedures, working constructively with campus community and suppliers and moving toward purchasing from employers who treat their employees in an ethical manner.

At present, the Code of Ethical Conduct for Suppliers and Subcontractors in Relation to Working Conditions and Employment Standards [8] applies to university purchases from suppliers and immediate subcontractors involved in the production, distribution and/or sale of any product falling into at least one of the following categories: (a) Products bearing the name, logo, image or trademark of the University that are sold or given away as promotional items; (b) Products that are monitored by a third-party agency that is independent of the monitored party, excluding books, research materials and research equipment.

The University of Guelph expects to do business only with suppliers and subcontractors whose workers are present to work voluntarily, are not at undue risk of physical harm, are fairly compensated and are not exploited in any way. University suppliers must operate workplaces, and require that their immediate subcontractors operate workplaces that adhere, at a minimum, to the following statements of principle with respect to working standards and to the detailed standards and practices outlined in the Procedures for Implementation of the University of the Guelph Code of Conduct for Suppliers and Subcontractors in Relation to Working Conditions and Employment Standards [9].
