SUBJECT

The University has, in the past, attempted to accommodate both on and off campus organizations, groups or On Campus Advertising Promotion, Sales and Solicitations.

GENERAL

The University has, in the past, attempted to accommodate both on and off campus organizations, groups or individuals who have made application to advertise their services, to promote their organizational benefits, to sell their product and/or wares, to solicit for charities, to increase membership, to gain topical support (e.g. United Way, the Campus Fund, etc.).

In view of the vulnerability of the University and its community to solicitation, guidelines have been formulated to prevent the University campus from becoming a marketplace to the detriment of the University as an educational institution. The University is committed to supplying various services through established organizational departments such as Hospitality and Retail Services, Purchasing & Mail Services, Finance and Administrative Services, University Centre Administration and leased commercial enterprises.

Therefore, a careful selection and approval of solicitation requests are necessary.

For election campaigning on campus by Municipal, Provincial or Governmental candidates, see Policy GE.10.0
