Indicative Content

Note: Almost every class will start with a discussion of current events. Please bring discussion topics to every class and keep a written record of these to hand in during the last class. These will be a large part of your participation grade.

I am working on having a number of guest speakers come to class. Depending on their availability, it may impact course flow.

Readings can be found in courselink. I will add to these as they become available.
 These 2 books can be found on course reserve in the library:

1. Yeoman, I. (2012). 2050-tomorrow's tourism (Vol. 55). Channel View Publications.
2. Knowles, T., Diamantis, D., & El-Mourhabi, J. B. (2004). The globalization of tourism and hospitality: A strategic perspective. Cengage Learning EMEA.

Assignments are to be submitted ELECTRONICALLY in Word through the Courselink dropbox as indicated, except for participation. A penalty (5%) per day will apply to late assignments unless accompanied by a medical certificate. Please note that these policies are binding unless academic consideration is given to an individual student. Detailed grading schemes will be posted for these assignments.

Course Policy on Group Work:

If students choose to do a group project, PRIOR APPROVAL BY THE INSTRUCTOR MUST BE OBTAINED and individual responsibilities for the submitted assignment must be agreed to between the students and the instructor

Course Policy regarding use of electronic devices and recording of lectures

Electronic recording of classes is expressly forbidden without consent of the instructor. When recordings are permitted they are solely for the use of the authorized student and may not be reproduced, or transmitted to others, without the express written consent of the instructor.

Course Resources

Recommended Textbooks:

Lockwood, A., & Medlik, S. (eds.) (2001). Tourism and Hospitality in the 21st Century. London, UK: Elsevier Science Ltd.

Additional readings are posted to Courselink.

Other Resources:

Students are expected to read at least one major newspaper daily for developments that impact on the supply or demand of tourism, as well as sign up to at least two listservs that specialize in tourism news. Examples include:

- <http://www.eturbonews.com/>
- http://www.tourism-review.com/get\_email\_news.php
- Travelmole (and a whole series of newswires)

- Test your regional geography at <http://www.lizardpoint.com/fun/geoquiz/>

Most of these websites also have archives and are searchable, which makes them an excellent resource for some of the assignments.

Course Assessments

Trend Analysis:

During the first week of classes, a number of major trends affecting the evolution of tourism in different regions of the world will be discussed. Students will choose one specific trend and research its importance, evolution and anticipated future impacts. Grades will recognize both the depth and breadth of the analysis. Good statistics must support statements.

- Description of trend 5%
- Historic perspective (e.g. past 10 years) 5%
- Breadth of impacts to date 5%
- Anticipated future evolution and impacts (e.g. next 5 years) 5%
- Grammar, spelling and presentation 5%
- Sourcing and referencing 5%

Guidelines for preparing individual trend report:

Papers should be typed in Times New Roman, 12-pt font, double-spaced and free of spelling and grammatical errors. Length should be eight to 10 pages (max!) for the trend report. Papers must be properly referenced using the APA referencing format. Up to 25% of the grade can be affected by an unprofessional presentation. Assignments are due on Feb. 12. Late submissions will be penalized (5% of grade per day late). BONUS: Best papers will have the opportunity to be published:

<http://atrium.lib.uoguelph.ca/xmlui/handle/10214/2472>

Guidelines for grading trend reports:

Each student will be assigned two reports to grade using the above table. Grades will be given for the thoughtfulness of constructive criticisms and corrections of spelling, grammar and referencing.

Sector Presentation:

- On the first day of class, groups of 2 will be assigned a sector topic and presentation date.
- Each group member will decide which sub-sector they wish to research.
- Groups must discuss the presentation with the professor, and submit a draft presentation in advance of the class presentation.
- Each presentation should last no more than 45 minutes. The group will be responsible for challenging and engaging the rest of the class in discussion.
- Each member of the group must take part in the presentation.
- Group members must submit a confidential peer evaluation on the day of the public presentation. A peer evaluation form will be provided.

Group Presentation:

- Macro overview of sector 2%
- summary of the developments (past decade) in context 5%
- current issues facing the sub-sector 5%
- structural changes that are occurring 5%
- projections for future developments 5%
- Oral presentation and engagement 3%

University Policies

Academic Consideration

When you find yourself unable to meet an in-course requirement because of illness or compassionate reasons, please advise the course instructor in writing, with your name, id#, and e-mail contact. See the academic calendar for information on regulations and procedures for Academic Consideration: <https://www.uoguelph.ca/registrar/calendars/undergraduate/2015-2016/c08/c08-amisconduct.shtml>

Academic Misconduct

The University of Guelph is committed to upholding the highest standards of academic integrity and it is the responsibility of all members of the University community, faculty, staff, and students to be aware of what constitutes academic misconduct and to do as much as possible to prevent academic offences from occurring.

University of Guelph students have the responsibility of abiding by the University's policy on academic misconduct regardless of their location of study; faculty, staff and students have the responsibility of supporting an environment that discourages misconduct. Students need to remain aware that instructors have access to and the right to use electronic and other means of detection. Please note: Whether or not a student intended to commit academic misconduct is not relevant for a finding of guilt. Hurried or careless submission of assignments does not excuse students from responsibility for verifying the academic integrity of their work before submitting it. Students who are in any doubt as to whether an action on their part could be construed as an academic offence should consult with a faculty member or faculty advisor.

The Academic Misconduct Policy is detailed in the Undergraduate Calendar:

<https://www.uoguelph.ca/registrar/calendars/undergraduate/2015-2016/c08/c08-amisconduct.shtml>

Accessibility

The University of Guelph is committed to creating a barrier-free environment. Providing services for students is a shared responsibility among students, faculty and administrators. This relationship is based on respect of individual rights, the dignity of the individual and the University community's shared commitment to an open and supportive learning environment. Students requiring service or accommodation, whether due to an identified, ongoing disability or a short-term disability should contact the Centre for Students with Disabilities as soon as possible.

For more information, contact CSD at 519-824-4120 ext. 56208 or email csd@uoguelph.ca or see the website: <http://www.csd.uoguelph.ca/csd/>

Drop date

The last date to drop one-semester courses, without academic penalty, is November 6, 2015. For regulations and procedures for Dropping Courses, see the Academic Calendar:
