Course Description

This course looks to develop students' analytical ability as it applies to operations in the service sector. Focus will be placed on understanding and analyzing the development, design and measurement of service. Introduction to the topics of benchmarking, supply chain management, queuing systems, service quality, forecasting, and project management will also be undertaken.

Course Learning Outcomes

Upon successfully completing this course, you will:

Knowledge and Understanding:

1. Understand the role of Operations Management, and be able to identify a service operation through application of the characteristics of service;

Discipline/Professional and Transferable Skills:

2. Develop a blueprint for a service operation, and use it to make recommendations for improvements to the service encounter;
3. Discuss the role of forecasting as a tactical measure of service operations analysis and use it to forecast demand;
4. Utilize excel to calculate service quality metrics;
5. Analyze service quality metrics to make meaningful recommendations.

Course Assessment

			Associated Learning Outcomes	Due Date/ location
Assessment 1:	15%	Assigned Submissions	LO 2, 4, 5	TBD
Assessment 2:	25%	Test 1	LO 1, 5	Week 5
Assessment 3:	30%	Test 2	LO 1, 3, 5	Week 9
Assessment 4:	30%	Test 3	LO 1, 3, 5	Week 12
Total	100%

Assessment	Description
Assessment 1: Assigned Submissions	At some point during four workshops, your professor will provide you an opportunity to submit your response to questions posed in the workshop. You will be required to submit three of these submissions throughout the course, each worth 5%.
Assessment 2: Test 1	This test will be comprised of multiple choice and short-answer questions.
Assessment 3: Test 2	This test will be comprised of multiple choice and short-answer questions.
Assessment 4: Test 3	This test will be comprised of multiple choice and short-answer questions.

Teaching and Learning Practices

Asynchronous Lectures Students will be expected to review all asynchronous lectures weekly, prior to attending the workshop. The asynchronous lectures will teach the skills students will need to acquire in order to be able to understand and complete the weekly workshops.

Synchronous Workshops There will be a workshop held every week. These workshops will provide students the opportunity to go through provided questions, to ask questions, and to develop their problem-solving ability. The synchronous workshops will be held in person or by Zoom and a link to the workshops will be provided every week.

Course Resources

Required Text:

There is no required textbook for this course. Given this, lecture materials (PowerPoint slides) and assigned readings will be posted on Courselink weekly. It is your responsibility to have watched the recorded lectures, read any assigned readings, and complete any assigned questions, prior to each workshop. Material covered in the synchronous workshops and asynchronous lectures will go beyond the posted readings and power points and it is your responsibility to attend workshops and watch all posted asynchronous lectures to obtain the non-posted materials. The tests in this class will be based on both the posted and non-posted material.

This course covers a significant amount of material, resulting in each week being comprised of many slides. The rationale for the large PPT decks is so that you have the key concepts and ideas covered in every class in material that you can refer to for tests and future use. Given the number of slides for each lecture, it is advised that you review all the slides before watching the asynchronous lecture and make notes, so that you do not become overwhelmed with the pace at which material is covered during each workshop.

Optional Text:

While the pertinent material you are responsible for will be presented in class, along with accompanying examples for you to work through, those who wish to have extra practice and a more in-depth understanding of concepts should look to purchase the optional text below.

Course Policies

Communicating with Your Instructor

During the course, your instructor will interact with you on various course matters using the following ways of communication:

- Face-to-Face/Virtual Workshop: Your instructor will not only host weekly workshops, but will also provide time for discussion and questions during the workshop.
- Announcements: The instructor will use Announcements on the Course Home page to provide you with course reminders and updates. Please check this section frequently for course updates from your instructor.
- Email: If you have a conflict that prevents you from completing course requirements, or have a question concerning a personal matter, you can send your instructor a private message by email to mholme07@uoguelph.ca. The instructor will respond to your email within 48 business hours. When communicating by email, you MUST use your University of Guelph email address, and the subject line should read HTM 3120 – ‘Insert your name, First and Last’

- Office Hours: Given the COVID pandemic, your professor will not be having formal office hours, but he is happy to set up individual zoom calls with students as requested.

Netiquette Expectations

For courses with online environments, the course website is considered the classroom and the same protections, expectations, guidelines, and regulations used in face-to-face settings apply, plus other policies and considerations that come into play specifically because these courses are online. Inappropriate online behaviour will not be tolerated. Examples of inappropriate online behaviour include:

- Posting inflammatory messages about your instructor or fellow students;
- Using obscene or offensive language online;
- Copying or presenting someone else's work as your own;
- Adapting information from the Internet without using proper citations or references;
- Buying or selling term papers or assignments;
- Posting or selling course materials to course notes websites;
- Having someone else complete your quiz or completing a quiz for/with another student;
- Stating false claims about lost quiz answers or other assignment submissions;
- Threatening or harassing a student or instructor online;
- Discriminating against fellow students, instructors, and/or TAs;
- Using the course website to promote profit-driven products or services;
- Attempting to compromise the security or functionality of the learning management system; and
- Sharing your username and password.

Submission of Assignments

Assignments for this course should be submitted digitally on the day they are due.

Be sure to keep a back-up copy of all of your assignments in the event that they are lost in transition. In order to avoid any last-minute computer problems, your instructor strongly recommends that you save your assignments to a cloud-based file storage (e.g., Google Docs), or send to your email account, so that should something happen to your computer, the assignment could still be submitted on time or re-submitted.

It is your responsibility to submit your assignments on time as specified on the Schedule. Be sure to check the technical requirements and make sure you have the proper computer, that you have a supported browser, and that you have reliable Internet access. Remember that technical difficulty is not an excuse not to turn in your assignment on time. Don't wait until the last minute as you may get behind in your work.

If, for some reason, you have a technical difficulty when submitting your assignment electronically, please contact your instructor.

Late Policy

No assignments will be accepted late in this class.

Extensions will be considered for medical reasons or other extenuating circumstances. If you require an extension, discuss this with the instructor as soon as possible and well before the due date. Barring exceptional circumstances, extensions will not be granted once the due date has passed. These rules are not designed to be arbitrary, nor are they inflexible. They are designed to keep you organized, to ensure that all students have the same amount of time to work on assignments, and to help to return marked materials to you in the shortest possible time.

Students who find themselves unable to meet course requirements by the deadlines or the criteria expected because of medical or personal reasons, should review the regulations on academic consideration in the Academic Calendar and discuss their situation with the instructor, program counselor or other academic counselor as appropriate.

Obtaining Grades and Feedback

Your instructor will have grades posted online within 2 weeks of the submission deadline, if the assignment was submitted on time. Once your assignments are marked you can view your grades on the course website by selecting Grades from the Tools dropdown menu on the navbar. Your course will remain open to you for seven days following the last day of the final exam period.

Final grades will be available at the end of the semester. Students can access their final grade by logging into WebAdvisor (using your U of G central ID).

Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion Statement

At the Lang School of Business and Economics, we are committed to developing leaders with a social conscience, an environmental sensibility, and a commitment to their communities. A core tenet within this vision is that diversity is a strength with which we can experience greater connection and understanding.

As such, we affirm the importance and shared responsibility of our students, faculty, and staff creating and promoting equity and inclusion within our learning spaces. Creating these kinds of learning cultures is a process, not a destination; it requires ongoing willingness on the part of each person to thoughtfully and critically listen, unlearn, learn, and engage as they are exposed to a multitude of perspectives and lived experiences. We encourage dialogues between students and instructors to address and advance opportunities for fostering greater diversity and inclusion in the learning environment. Openness to conversations with each other enables us to reflect and grow as we learn from one another respectfully and holistically.

As a department that is training the professionals of the future, we expect our learning spaces to abide by all institutional policies and guidelines, in particular those outlined by the Office of Diversity and Human Rights and the University of Guelph Human Rights Policy. Discrimination and harassment, as defined by our policies, will not be tolerated. Individuals should inform the appropriate party as per University policies if they experience any such behaviours.

University Policies

Academic Consideration

When you find yourself unable to meet an in-course requirement because of illness or compassionate reasons, please advise the course instructor in writing, with your name, id#, and e-mail contact. See the academic calendar for information on regulations and procedures for Academic Consideration:

<http://www.uoguelph.ca/registrar/calendars/undergraduate/current/c08/c08-ac.shtml>

Academic Misconduct

The University of Guelph is committed to upholding the highest standards of academic integrity and it is the responsibility of all members of the University community, faculty, staff, and students to be aware of what constitutes academic misconduct and to do as much as possible to prevent academic offences from occurring.

University of Guelph students have the responsibility of abiding by the University's policy on academic misconduct regardless of their location of study; faculty, staff and students have the responsibility of supporting an environment that discourages misconduct. Students need to remain aware that instructors have access to and the right to use electronic and other means of detection. Please note: Whether or not a student intended to commit academic misconduct is not relevant for a finding of guilt. Hurried or careless submission of assignments does not excuse students from responsibility for verifying the academic integrity of their work before submitting it. Students who are in any doubt as to whether an action on their part could be construed as an academic offence should consult with a faculty member or faculty advisor.

The Academic Misconduct Policy is detailed in the Undergraduate Calendar:

<https://www.uoguelph.ca/registrar/calendars/undergraduate/current/c08/c08-amisconduct.shtml>

Accessibility

The University of Guelph is committed to creating a barrier-free environment. Providing services for students is a shared responsibility among students, faculty and administrators. This relationship is based on respect of individual rights, the dignity of the individual and the University community's shared commitment to an open and supportive learning environment. Students requiring service or accommodation, whether due to an identified, ongoing disability or a short-term disability should contact Student Accessibility Services as soon as possible.
