
Retirement Planning

Retirement means different things to different people. For some, it's an opportunity to slow down and spend quality time with family and friends. For others, it's an opportunity to travel or explore new career paths. No matter what your retirement goals are, transitioning from working life to retirement takes careful planning and decision-making.

This section of our website will be helpful to you if:

- You are a current employee who is considering retirement
- You are a current employee who wants to work beyond age 65
- You are a current or prospective employee who wants to find out what benefits you might have as a future University of Guelph retiree.
