The University of Guelph is a community where all students, staff and faculty can learn, work and live in equality and respect.

The University of Guelph prohibits discrimination and harassment based on all grounds identified by the Ontario Human Rights Code [1]: sex, sexual orientation, race, colour, ancestry, place of origin, ethnic origin, citizenship, creed (faith), age, marital status, family status and same-sex partnerships, and receipt of public assistance.

Please visit the Human Rights and Equity Office website [2] at the University of Guelph for further information.
