

Learning & Development Team

The Learning & Development team consists of a small number of dedicated, energetic individuals with a wide range of strengths and competencies. In addition to staff members, Learning & Development draws on a group of distinguished consultants, facilitators and training associates.

Linda Watt, Director, Learning & Development and Consulting Services

x56509 lwatt@uoguelph.ca [1]

Linda Watt, M.A. Human Systems Intervention, is the Director of Learning, Development and Consulting Services with the University of Guelph. Leveraging her 15 years' experience as an Independent Consultant providing Strategic Change, Leadership and Organizational Development Services to more than 200 Public and Private Sector organizations in Canada and the U.S., Linda has strived to work collaboratively with colleagues to provide visionary leadership in the establishment of human-centred frameworks, processes and practices for progressive culture change, compassionate and effective leadership practice and enhanced organizational effectiveness at the University of Guelph. Linda holds an Advanced Certificate in Conflict Management and Mediation from Conrad Grebel School for Peace and Conflict Studies, University of Waterloo, a diploma in Adult Education, is a certified Coach and Facilitator. Linda is certified in a number of leadership and personal assessments and has authored articles on leadership, mentorship and coaching. Linda has taught university courses with both UofG and University of New Brunswick. On a personal note, Linda is a certified Wine Sommelier and a Wedding and End of Life Officiant!

Contact Linda to learn more about the consulting services offered through Learning & Development, including strategic planning, teams and workgroups, conflict management and learning and performance.

Jessica Yu, Learning, Development, and Wellness@Work Coordinator

x56800 jyu10@uoguelph.ca [2] or landd@uoguelph.ca [3]

Jessica organizes Learning & Development, Wellness@Work and GREAT at U of G programs and events for staff and faculty across U of G. Jessica holds an M.Sc. in Human Health and Nutritional Sciences from the University of Guelph and a Project Management Certificate from the University of Toronto.

In her free time, she loves hiking, singing at choir, and connecting with the Guelph community.

Contact Jessica to learn more about Learning & Development services.

Olja Zubic, Senior Consultant, Learning & Development and Consulting Services

ozubic@uoguelph.ca [4]

Olja is passionate about fostering personal and professional skills development and brings diverse experience

Learning & Development Team

Published on Human Resources (<https://www.uoguelph.ca/hr>) spanning across both private and public sectors. She has supported individuals, teams, and organizations during times of tremendous change and transition. With an Honours Bachelor of Science degree from McMaster University and a Human Resources Management Graduate Certificate, Olja holds the Certified Human Resources Professional (CHRP) designation.

She loves to play tennis and recently got into the pickleball craze, enjoys yoga and barre, and spending time with friends and family.

Contact Olja to learn more about the consulting services offered through Learning & Development, including strategic planning, teams and workgroups, conflict management and learning and performance.

Page category: Learning & Development [5]

Source URL: <https://www.uoguelph.ca/hr/hr-services-learning-development/learning-development-team>

Links

[1] <mailto:lwatt@uoguelph.ca?subject=Email%20from%20Learning%20%26%20Development%20Team%20page>

[2] <mailto:jyu10@uoguelph.ca> [3] <mailto:landd@uoguelph.ca> [4] <mailto:ozubic@uoguelph.ca> [5]

<https://www.uoguelph.ca/hr/page-category/stub-0>