Establishing Agreements and Partnerships

The University of Guelph has a long tradition of international partnerships in research, development, teaching and learning. New agreements, however, need to meet a variety of criteria and are approved and signed at the senior administrative level to ensure the University can meet its legal and moral obligations.

Use the menu on the right-hand side to review the different types of standard agreements at Guelph.