Funding International Activities

Research Alerts:
The Office of Research maintains a searchable database of funding opportunities [1]. You can also access this information by subscribing to Research Alerts [2] to receive funding information delivered directly to your email inbox.

Other Opportunities:
In addition, here are some tried and true links for funding possibilities depending on the nature of your initiative:

International Development Research Centre (IDRC [3]) - supports research in developing countries to promote growth and development.

Canadian Trade Commissioner [4] - listing of collaborative arrangements between the Gov't of Canada and other countries for research and innovation collaboration in science and technology.
