1.1 Calendar Description

The students will be matched with a research advisor in their first semester and write a research proposal on their project in the second semester communication course. During the time they do their research project, they will be expected to do the research work that they propose and then to prepare a written report of their results and conclusions as well as to give a poster presentation on this. The research project can be undertaken with any appropriate faculty member, or with an approved off-campus institution.

Restrictions: Restricted to Master of Biotechnology students.

4 Learning Outcomes

4.1 Learning Outcomes

The course is centered on experience based learning within an academic or industrial environment. Assessment involves two written reports and a poster presentation. Therefore writing skills and oral presentation skills will be developed in addition to the variety of skills learned in the placement setting.

5 Teaching and Learning Activities

5.1 Activities

The whole course is based on a one or two semester lab placement or industrial placement. There are no lectures. At the conclusion of the course students will give a short oral poster presentation and submit a final report. Approximately half way through the semester, students will submit a short (2-page) progress report. We plan to conduct an in-person poster session in the SSC Atrium in August, but this will be subject to prevailing COVID19 restrictions in place at the University.

6 Assessments

6.1 Assessment

This course involves doing a project working full time with their assigned advisor. The major assignments will be to prepare two written reports and prepare and present a poster on the project work.

Evaluation:

1. Short 2-page report of progress on the project. This is essentially a condensed version of the more substantial final report outlined below. However, it should certainly include an executive summary at the beginning, a set of goals and the results as well as a summary of recommended next steps for the project. Please submit your poster to me via Drop Box through Courselink, and/or to my email by Thursday June 30th.

(10%)

2. Poster presentation. Please submit your poster to me via Drop Box through Courselink, or to my email as a pdf by Monday August 8th. This is the week we are planning to run the in-person poster presentation which will be graded by me and one other faculty member. Details of individual presentation times will follow shortly.

(45%)

3. Written project report. Please submit the written reports by Friday August 12th via Drop Box on Courselink or to me directly through email. The project report will be a maximum of 10 pages double-spaced not including references or figures. The form of the proposal can be variable depending on the project in question. However, it should certainly include an executive summary at the beginning, how goals were met, if applicable, or perhaps how they changed during the project, an outline of the final results and their implications as well as a summary of recommended next steps for the project. The student is strongly encouraged to consult extensively with their advisor for this. A marking rubric will be posted on Courselink.

Keep paper and/or other reliable back-up copies of all out-of-class assignments: you may be asked to resubmit work at any time.

8.5 Accessibility

The University promotes the full participation of students who experience disabilities in their academic programs. To that end, the provision of academic accommodation is a shared responsibility between the University and the student.

When accommodations are needed, the student is required to first register with Student Accessibility Services (SAS). Documentation to substantiate the existence of a disability is required; however, interim accommodations may be possible while that process is underway.

Accommodations are available for both permanent and temporary disabilities. It should be noted that common illnesses such as a cold or the flu do not constitute a disability.

Use of the SAS Exam Centre requires students to make a booking at least 14 days in advance, and no later than November 1 (fall), March 1 (winter) or July 1 (summer). Similarly, new or changed accommodations for online quizzes, tests and exams must be approved at least a week ahead of time.

For Guelph students, information can be found on the SAS website
<https://www.uoguelph.ca/sas>

For Ridgetown students, information can be found on the Ridgetown SAS website

8.6 Academic Integrity

The University of Guelph is committed to upholding the highest standards of academic integrity, and it is the responsibility of all members of the University community—faculty, staff, and students—to be aware of what constitutes academic misconduct and to do as much as possible to prevent academic offences from occurring. University of Guelph students have the responsibility of abiding by the University's policy on academic misconduct regardless of their location of study; faculty, staff, and students have the responsibility of supporting an environment that encourages academic integrity. Students need to remain aware that instructors have access to and the right to use electronic and other means of detection.

Please note: Whether or not a student intended to commit academic misconduct is not relevant for a finding of guilt. Hurried or careless submission of assignments does not excuse students from responsibility for verifying the academic integrity of their work before submitting it. Students who are in any doubt as to whether an action on their part could be construed as an academic offence should consult with a faculty member or faculty advisor.
