Course Description

This course covers products and services marketing. Students will be introduced to the theoretical concepts through independent reading, lectures and class discussions during seminar times. They will have the opportunity to apply these concepts through video cases, presentations, online assignments and comprehensive reports. Students will examine the process of marketing which includes: analyzing, planning, implementing, coordinating, and controlling programs involved in the conception, pricing, promotion, and distribution of products, services, and ideas designed to create and maintain beneficial exchanges with target markets for the purpose of achieving public and private organizational objectives.

Course Learning Outcomes (CLO)

1. To understand the importance and role of marketing in the firm and in society.
2. To understand the marketing planning process and its components in both the product and service situations. Discuss the management and activities of both product and service organizations.
3. To develop the ability to apply marketing concepts and tools across a broad spectrum of situations, including small and large firms as well as profit and not-profit organizations.
4. To foster the development of marketing decision-making, problem-solving, teamwork and analytical skills through: application of marketing concepts to the introduction of hypothetical new products in a competitive multimarket.
5. Discuss current social responsibility, ethical issues and globalization strategies.

Note: The schedule of learning activities may require modification from time to time. Any changes will be announced in class and/or on the CourseLink site.

Teaching and Learning Practices

This course uses a variety of materials and resources. One of your primary resources will be the course website (<http://courselink.uoguelph.ca>). All announcements, required and recommended readings, assignments and updates will be posted here. You will also be able to access any handouts you may have missed through this site. Check this site often and be sure to consult it first before asking questions. You will find that most of your questions can be answered through the information posted as well as discussion groups. You will be required to purchase a textbook (hardcopy or e-book) as well as the associated SmartBook online access.

The required textbook is one of either:

Marketing: CONNECT with SmartBook Digital Only © 2017

Authors: Crane, Frederick Kerin, Roger Hartley, Steven Rudelius, William 9781259272257 / 1259272257 CANH, or

Marketing: Print Package plus CONNECT with SmartBook © 2017

Authors: Crane, Frederick Kerin, Roger Hartley, Steven Rudelius, William
9781259270901 / 1259270904CANH

Seminars

During your seminars, you will work on video cases, a marketing pitch and a final presentation. You must be registered and organized in groups by the end of your second seminar (Friday September 15).

On-Line Communication

Enrollment of this class could be as high as 300 to 350 students and our goal is to ensure that your questions are answered in an effective manner. Following the protocol below will help you get a prompt response to your inquiries and concerns.

- This course has a Web site (see <http://courselink.uoguelph.ca/>). Please post any questions you may have to the discussion area, or feel free to speak to the lecturer or the teaching assistants during classes or seminars.
- Please read all previous postings or consult a classmate prior to posting a new question.
- Demonstrate your diligence and commitment to this course, by ensuring you have exhausted all avenues of addressing your issue before reaching out to your TA or professor.
- If your matter is personal in nature, please e-mail Lidia Taylor at lidiat@uoguelph.ca
- Always use your <uoguelph.ca> account for registering in online components of this class. Failing to do so may cause problems in grade synchronization with CourseLink.

Course Assessment

The course assessment has attempted to balance grades that will allow students to:

- Earn 40 per cent of their grade through group work and 60 per cent of their grade through individual accomplishments.
- Earn 60 per cent of their grade through marketing theory and 40 per cent of their grade through applying the theory.

Assignment	Weight	Learning Objective	Due Date

Group Work – Final Marketing Plan	20%	1, 2, 3, 4	See Schedule of Dates
Final Examination	35%	1, 2, 3, 4, 5	TBD
Total	100%

Participation

There are three key components to the participation mark. A research component, pre-lecture quizzes completed as self-study and post-lecture quizzes during class.

Research Component (4%)

The research component of the course can be earned by participating in a research study throughout the semester. Specific details of how to complete this requirement will be posted on CourseLink. If you choose not to participate in a research study, then there is a second option of reviewing two journal articles that are then graded by a teaching assistant.

The research option requires you to work with the department of Marketing and Consumer studies using a system called SONA. If you choose this option, please contact them directly with any questions about this aspect of the course. SONA is completely administered by MCS's administrative office and it is responsible for ensuring the grades are inputted once the students complete the study.

Marks for SONA and your Research Component will be uploaded after the term is complete, but prior to the final examination. Please be patient and refrain from asking for updates on these marks.

CONNECT Pre-lecture Online Quizzes (self-study) (10%)

There are weekly online quizzes using the adaptive tool LearnSmart included in CONNECT. You can access CONNECT directly via the link in the top right-hand corner of your course. Students may complete the assignments at their own pace, but in order to earn marks the online quiz needs to be complete before the deadline. The adaptive tool will automatically give feedback on the content that needs further clarification. By the due date specified, it is expected that students complete between 70 to 100% of the learning objectives of the week. Quizzes are graded based on completion rate. Assignments below 70% will be given a mark of "0". The Quizzes are based on the chapter(s) covered in the lecture. When two chapters are covered in one week, the grade will be the average mark of both chapters (assignments in LearnSmart). After the due date, students may still complete the homework (but not for marks). Because technology can fail, please complete your assigned work well in advance.

CONNECT Post-lecture Online Quizzes during class (11%)

Please bring appropriate technology to each lecture and be prepared to access the CONNECT tool. You may be asked to participate in pop quizzes at some point during the lecture. These quizzes will be marked. Completing the pre-lecture online quizzes will help prepare you for the online quizzes held during the lecture.

Group Work

Students will be organized into groups of up to six in order to participate in various seminar activities. The activities are designed to allow students to apply their knowledge from the lecture. Once committed to a group, you will share the workload and grades of your fellow teammates. Please choose your group members carefully, set expectations and gain commitment. Marks will be deducted for groups that do not submit work as a team.

You will be asked to create and sign a group contract during your seminars.

A group contract is an agreement between you and your group members to meet certain levels of expectations. Although there is no set format for the group contract, in order to achieve full marks for your submission, your group contract must include the following:

- Agreement to Team Goals regarding mark achievement and other learning objectives.
- Protocols for dealing with group dynamics (ie missed classes, dealing with disagreements etc)
- Managing equal distribution of work.
- Agreement to meet weekly during scheduled seminar time.
- Individual contact information exchange to ensure good flow of communication

The group contract needs to be signed with original signatures.

Videos Case Studies (10%)

Groups will review and video case during the seminars and asked to submit a case analysis. In order to receive full marks, the submission must be signed by all students in the group and uploaded by the end of the day.

Marketing Pitch (10%)

During your seminars on October 20, you will be asked to prepare a five-minute marketing pitch for a new product idea. Marks will be allocated by assessing your –

- Organization (2 marks) – Did the presentation follow a logical path and an agenda?
- Timing (2 marks) - Did you create a presentation that lasted no more than five minutes as expected?
- Rationale (2 marks) – Does your proposed strategy make sense and can you defend your rationale?
- Presentation Skills (2 marks) – Were you clear, concise and entertaining in your delivery?
- Teamwork (2 marks) – Did your group look prepared and rehearsed for the presentation? Were you able to answer any questions from the audience? Did you contribute equally to the presentation? Were all team members present?

There will be no make up opportunities for the Marketing Pitch. Grades will be deducted if the full team is not present for the Marketing Pitch.

Final Marketing Plan (20%)

The final marketing plan is a culmination of your findings and learning from the course. It is to be a detailed plan of how you bring your product to market. Keep your comments succinct and brief in APA format. Reference information from the textbook, lectures and other marketing articles to create a final report of no more six pages excluding references and appendices.

Late submissions will be penalized 2.5 per cent per day to a maximum of two actual days. Submissions after two days will not be graded.

Marking Rubric for Final Marketing Plan		Marks
1. Content and analysis: How well are the following four elements discussed: (1) Situation and competitive environment of their market; (2) product development; (3) marketing mix; and (4) promotion mix.] The analysis itself will be evaluated considering: thoroughness, appropriateness and feasibility.		Up to 5
2. Creativity: Which reflects how much can you think out of the box? How well can your team stand out from your class? It is your opportunity to incorporate originality. But, creativity cannot override feasibility.		Up to 5
3. Marketing Concepts: How well can you incorporate studied marketing concepts to your analysis? Did you tie back your creative ideas to the theoretical concepts in the course.		Up to 10

Teamwork

Working in groups can be challenging; however, it is an activity that business students need experience in. To help you create the best team dynamic to allow your team to succeed, you will have the opportunity to choose your teams and evolve your teams. If after your initial selection you have issues, the following may occur –

Case 1: If an employee does not complete his or her expected workload, companies would fire the employee. If, as a team, you feel that one of your members is not contributing to the work of the team then you may fire them. To do that you need to --

1. Document that you have made several attempts to contact this student and explained expectations.
2. E-mail one of the teaching assistants, copying all members on the team and indicate the student you wish to fire.
3. Be aware that a new employee can be joining your team in lieu of the fired one.

Case 2: If an employee feels that he or she is too good for a company, the employee can look for another job. If you feel that you are working much more than your teammates and that you could do better in another team go ahead and look for another job. To do that you need to –

1. Email one of the teaching assistants explaining that you are searching for another job and explain your reasons. Only after the TA has approved your job search, will you move to Step 2.
2. Secure the written approval of every member of another team to “hire” you.

Important -- We will not make any changes in the teams if they are not initiated by students. Please be aware that even though, we'll make our best effort to coordinate all requested changes, due to space availability some changes may not be feasible.

Note:

1. Connect is a required component of this course. In order to get Connect, you need to purchase either the Textbook or the eBook. Students in financial distress situations, who cannot purchase the book, should contact the instructor to discuss alternatives.

Exams

There will be a final exam covering material from the class sessions, cases, and assignments. The exam is closed-book and closed notes. Obviously, no collaboration is allowed.

The final exam, comprising 35% of the overall course grade, will cover the material from the entire course. The final examination for MCS*1000 may include multiple choice questions, true and false, fill in the blanks and short answer/essay style questions. For the final exam, you must check with the university Web site / academic calendar for times, dates and locations of the final exam.

Examination conflict: Students are responsible for ensuring that they do not have a time conflict with examinations in other courses. You are not permitted to enrol in this course if you have a time conflict with another course.

When writing the final exam you must --

- (1) Write your name and student number on all documents including the exam question sheet and the Scantron sheet.
- (2) Write the appropriate version code from your final exam on the Scantron sheet.

If you do not write your name and student number on all documents or if you put the wrong final exam version code on the Scantron sheet you will automatically be penalized a reduction of 5 points on your grade for the exam.

Additional Evaluation Details

All assignment deadlines are absolute. Extensions will only be granted on the basis of extenuating circumstances. Keep a copy of all of your graded work until final marks have been recorded. You may be asked to resubmit your work at any time.

Course Philosophy and Approach

The simplest way to succeed in this class is to complete the assigned reading before class, and then listen and discuss the concepts in lecture.

University Policies

Academic Consideration

When you find yourself unable to meet an in-course requirement because of illness or compassionate reasons, please advise the course instructor in writing, with your name, student identification number, and e-mail contact information. Thoroughly review the academic calendar for information on regulations and procedures for academic consideration.

Please do not e-mail your course instructor or teaching assistant until you have reviewed the Web site. Understanding the guidelines is important to facilitating a response.

Academic Misconduct

The University of Guelph is committed to upholding the highest standards of academic integrity and it is the responsibility of all members of the University community, faculty, staff, and students to be aware of what constitutes academic misconduct and to do as much as possible to prevent academic offences from occurring.

University of Guelph students have the responsibility of abiding by the University's policy on academic misconduct regardless of their location of study; faculty, staff and students have the responsibility of supporting an environment that discourages misconduct. Students need to remain aware that instructors have access to and the right to use electronic and other means of detection. Please note: Whether or not a student intended to commit academic misconduct is not relevant for a finding of guilt. Hurried or careless submission of assignments does not excuse students from responsibility for verifying the academic integrity of their work before submitting it. Students who are in any doubt as to whether an action on their part could be construed as an academic offence should consult with a faculty member or faculty advisor.

The Academic Misconduct Policy is detailed in the Undergraduate Calendar.

Accessibility

The University of Guelph is committed to creating a barrier-free environment. Providing services for students is a shared responsibility among students, faculty and administrators. This relationship is based on respect of individual rights, the dignity of the individual and the University community's shared commitment to an open and supportive learning environment. Students requiring service or accommodation, whether due to an identified, ongoing disability or a short-term disability should contact the Centre for Students with Disabilities as soon as possible. For more information, contact CSD at 519-824-4120 ext. 56208 or email csd@uoguelph.ca or see the website: <http://www.csd.uoguelph.ca/csd/>
