Course Description:

The course will allow students an opportunity to explore key paradigms and be introduced to the practice of qualitative research methods and strategies including: ethnography, interviewing, focus groups, mixed methods, participant observation, and content analysis. Students will also consider ethical issues, positionality, and the role of the iterative research process.

Prerequisites: SOAN 2120: Introductory Methods

Credit weight: 0.50

Course Evaluation:

Course evaluation will include the following:

- In-class test
- Participant Observation activity
- Interview Assignment
- Annotated Bibliography
- Research Proposal

Required Readings:

Any supplementary material will be posted on Courselink.

This outline is for informational purposes only and may change. A complete syllabus will be provided on the first day of class in January 2019.